NEBRASKA SPELLS "SPORTSMANSHIP"

The University of Nebraska is known and respected all over the nation for its red-attired fans, as well as its football teams.

Nebraska fans also have a nationwide reputation for good sportsmanship, at home and away.

"Big League"—that's the way Nebraska teams and fans have acquitted themselves in past seasons, and that's the same goal for 1981.

The University of Nebraska urges all 1981 fans to continue this fine tradition of sportsmanship by extending courtesy to the visiting teams and officials.

All of us on the Cornhusker Staff salute our fans as the greatest in the nation and thank you for your support and sportsmanship.

Yours for Nebraska.

1980 Nemesis Florida State Invades Memorial Stadium

Still smarting from last week's 10-7 opening game loss at Iowa, Coach Tom Osborne's Nebraska Cornhuskers return to Memorial Stadium today, hoping to get that game out of their system.

However, getting into the win column is going to be no easy task as the Huskers take on 1980 nemesis Florida State, a team with a 23-3 record over the past three seasons, including a 2-0 start in 1981.

Last year, the Seminoles limped into Lincoln a week after being shocked by intrastate rival Miami, 10-9, but took advantage of four Nebraska turnovers in the second half to overcome a 14-0 NU lead and upset the then third-rated Huskers, 18-14, in a memorable Memorial Stadium shortout.

In that game, Nebraska jumped to its lead on two Jeff Quinn-to-Todd Brown touchdown passes in the first 25 minutes of the game. Coach Bobby Bowden's Seminoles started getting some breaks, though, and began their comeback. Kicker Bill Capece's first two field goals (of four in the game) brought FSU within 14-6 early in the second half, then the Seminoles closed to 14-12 on Sam Platt's six-yard TD burst with 5:17 left in the third quarter.

FSU's two-point conversion pass fell incomplete, but the Huskers shortly coughed up their third-straight turnover to set up Capece's third field goal, a 40-yarder with 1:16 still remaining in the third quarter. Capece added a final three-pointer with 2:37 left in the game, but the Huskers responded by driving 77 yards to the Florida State three, only to see Seminole linebacker Paul Piurowski crash in to sack Quinn and force NU's fourth crucial turnover. Ironically, Piurowski went to the hospital three days later to have his appendix removed.

The Seminoles come into Lincoln this year after wins over Louisville (17-0) and Memphis State (10-5) in Tallahassee, games in which their defense has sparkled, which wasn't expected early in the season, and in which their offense has faltered at times—which wasn't expected.

One player who certainly hasn't faltered is Seminole punter Rohn Starke, who's averaged over 44-yards per kick this year after finishing third in the nation in 1980 with a 45.2 average. After Iowa's Reggie Roby averaged 55.8 yards on five kicks last week, the Huskers and their fans may feel they've already seen enough good punters for a full season. Other Seminoles to watch today are tailback Billy Allen, a freshman walk-on from Cleveland, Ohio, who's picked up 190 yards in two games to earn his first start, linebacker Ron Hester, who subbed for Piurowski after the latter's surgery a year ago, and defensive end Jarvis Coursey, the outstanding defensive player in FSU's 18-17 Orange Bowl loss to Oklahoma last January.

Today's game kicks off the Huskers' 59th season in Memorial Stadium, where Nebraska has a 42-13-3 record in home openers since 1923. In last year's lid-lifter, the Cornhuskers rolled over Utah 55-9. The last time NU lost a home opener was a 19-10 upset at the hands of Washington State in 1977. Nebraska's all-time record at Memorial Stadium is 202-91-13.

THE TOUCHDOWN CLUB OF NEBRASKA

One of the groups most instrumental in helping the University of Nebraska Athletic Department grow in the field of intercolegiate sports is the Nebraska Touchdown Club.

Contributions from TD Club members have enabled the Cornhuskers to build a fine grant-in-aid program and continued support from the Touchdown Club, and groups like the Husker Achievement Awards, the Extra Point Club, and the Cornhusker Beef Club, will insure that the Nebraska Cornhuskers will always hold a prominent place in the college sports world.

The University of Nebraska Athletic Department salutes the many members of the Touchdown Club and takes this opportunity to say a sincere "Thank You."

Dr. and Mrs. John Christlieb were present when NU Foundation chairman D.B. Varner (right) announced the receipt of their gift.

"Rattlesnake," a bronze by Borglum Solon.

A gift to Nebraskans . . . the Great Plains Art Collection

by Andrea Cranford Assistant Director Office of University Information

One of the most generous gifts ever received by the University of Nebraska Foundation is on display now at Love Library.

The Christlieb Collection of Western Art was donated to the University's Center for the Study of the Great Plains by Dr. and Mrs. John Christlieb of Bellevue, Neb.

The collection consists of 175 bronzes, including 75 by Charles M. Russell and five by Frederic Remington; 160 paintings and drawings; an assortment of serigraphs, lithographs, etchings, sculpture models and carvings, and a 2,000-volume library of western Americana.

The Christlieb gift also included three farms in Iowa and Nebraska which the couple requested be sold to establish an endowment to maintain the collection.

A second floor room in the east wing of Love Library was recently remodeled to house the collection, and Jon Nelson, assistant to the director of Sheldon Art Gallery since 1966, was named curator. Since January 1980, he has been cataloguing and cleaning the art.

According to Nelson, the best pieces in the art collection will be on permanent display in the library gallery while others will be rotated to keep the exhibit "fresh."

The display, formally dedicated on Sept. 11, is open to the public 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily through Saturday, and 12 to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Dr. John Christlieb passed away at his home in Bellevue, Sept. 8, 1981, three days before the dedication of the Christlieb Collection.

"Horse Thief," a bronze by Carl Kauba.

"White Eagle," a bronze by Charles Schreyvogel.

"Pointing Them North," an oil by Olaf Weighorst.

TWO NEBRASKA LEGENDS

Nebraskans can boast of two legends: Big Red and Valentino's.

Year after year, the Cornhuskers prove their superiority on the football field.

And year after year, people enjoy Valentino's famous pizza, pasta and salads. Everything at Val's is made from the finest, freshest ingredients for a difference you can taste.

After the excitement of seeing Big Red in action, enjoy another legend. Valentino's.

The more meat stew.

Rich, hearty stew, brimming with meat and vegetables, tastes even better when you make it with pork.

Pork is less expensive. Which lets you add more meat for the money. Pork is tasty, which helps you add more customers.

Once you've made stew with pork instead, there's no stopping. Pork tacos, pork patties, pork chili loaf, pork lasagna, pork and macaroni, pork sloppy joes. See what we mean?

old the Heisman another play or two. Look at a few more trips off tackle. Inspect the power sweep. Throw a sideline cut and maybe a crossing pattern.

Since the race is just beginning, it might be a little early to award the trophy. You-know-who will probably win it ... but, even if there is an upset, you won't be surprised. The honoree's name is in this story about the best offensive college players in America.

Herschel Walker is one of the best. He was worth a spring bid of $1.5 million by Montreal. He might be worth more than that to Georgia and college football.

As the finest freshman in the history of NCAA statistics, Walker gained 1,616 yards and 15 touchdowns for the national champion Bulldogs. After the first week, he was a marked man, Linebackers knew he was coming but Walker averaged 146.9 per Saturday, 5.9 per rush. He ran the hard yards and broke the big ones, caught passes, sold tickets and kept his poise before a media blitz.

Week after week he won colorful clashes yet claimed he was but one on a team. At 18, he had rippling muscles and moves that might have been magic. At 19, it will be difficult for Herschel to do more.

Marcus Allen is a great offensive talent. He's tailback at Southern Cal... 1,563 yards and 14 touchdowns in 10 games behind the tough Trojan line.

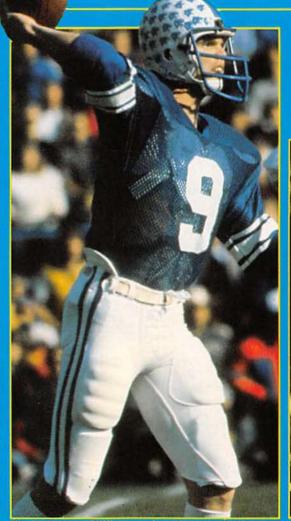

"One of the great players in the country and still getting better," says John Robinson, USC's coach.

Jim McMahon, Brigham Young quarterback, is one of a kind . . . the kind the Cougars come up with almost every other year. By NCAA count, Jim holds 32 national records of varying importance. He was the first Division I passer to produce more than 4,000 yards in a season. He led the country in total offense as a junior. He won the Holiday Bowl with a touchdown pass after the clock ran out.

BYU led America in 1980 total offense, passing offense and scoring average. This quarterback is one big gun.

Art Schlichter, Ohio State quarterback, is high on the list of offensive all-stars. He's high in numbers, too . . . already the school record-holder in total damage inflicted, twice in the top five after Heisman voting.

Stanford's John Elway, now a junior, is a classic quarterback, a pure passer with size. His sophomore stats were continued

Jim McMahon, BYU's record setting quarterback, led the nation in total offense last season.

Anthony Carter burns Michigan opponents as a receiver and return man.

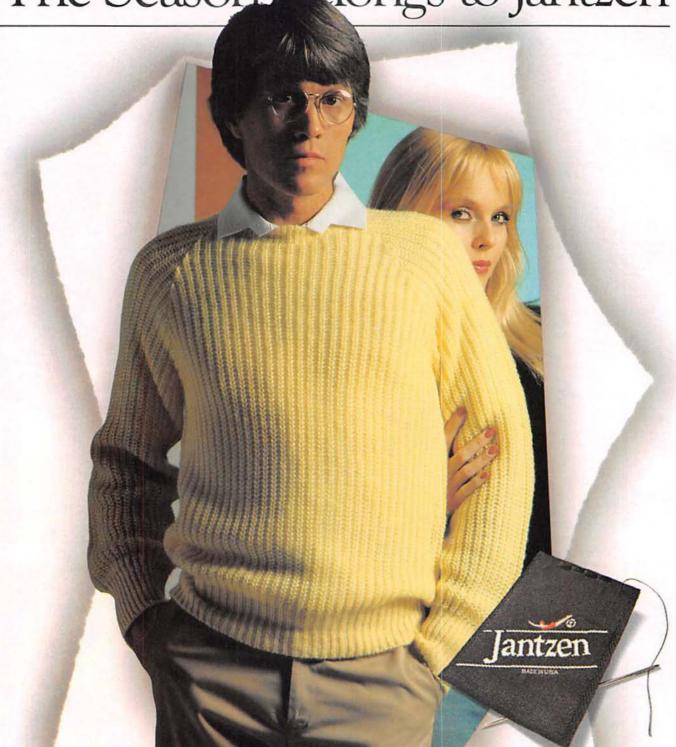

Rainey Meszaros of the University of Pacific is one of the nation's top receivers.

sensational—65 percent accuracy, 2,889 yards, second best in the proud history of the Pac-10.

One outing was really special, against Oregon State. John hit four scoring passes in the first quarter, two more after a rest. For the season, he set six league records and threw 27 touchdown strikes.

There are other loud bombers, Roman candles, shooting stars. Fancy fireworks are scheduled each weekend this fall. No region has a monopoly. Sparklers are all sizes and they show up day or night. Some are runners. Some are throwers. Some catch and run. Some are manhandlers who find fame foreign. They are on this list.

Michigan's mosquito, Anthony Carter, is a big-play genius as wide receiver and kickoff returner. Syracuse features instant excitement in Joe Morris, a water bug at tailback. Mississippi State has a young bull of a quarterback, sophomore John Bond. He is 6-4, 208, strong enough to block tackles, swift enough to run the dash.

There'll be an awesome review of running backs. Each area of America has one or more. Morris is the main man in the East at 5-7 and 182. He is the career rushing leader with eligibility remaining . . . 3,105 in 27 games.

The Ivy League salutes Rich Diana, a molecular biophysics major at Yale. He rushed for 1,074 and caught passes for 212 more Curt Warner is the man to see at Penn State. He hit Ohio State for 155 in the Fiesta Bowl. Lorenzo Bouier of Maine set the New England rushing record with 1,622 last fall. Northeastern couldn't tackle him. That Saturday Bouier got 3,021. Navy offers Eddie Meyers, a junior, who owns a host of Naval Academy records.

There are some runaway trains in the Midwest. Butch Woolfolk of Michigan is 6-3 and 215. He got 182 in the Rose Bowl, 1,042 for his junior year. Phil Carter is strong for Notre Dame.

The best man in the Big Eight may be Roger Craig of Nebraska. This I-back seized every opportunity, and averaged 6.9 per rush. It is unbelievable that Roger racked up 782 yards and 15 touchdowns as a non-starter.

Iowa State claims the defending champ in the conference. Dwayne Crutchfield, down in weight to 225, led the Big Eight with a school-record 1,312 yards and 11 touchdowns. His toughness showed. He lasted all 11 games, ripped Oklahoma for 179, mauled Missouri for 164.

"He's a bull coming out of the chute," says Donnie Duncan, his coach.

Oklahoma has a fast entry in Stanley Wilson. He won spurs against Texas, gaining 172 in 24 tries.

Kerwin Bell had a good beginning at Kansas. He is the lone freshman ever to be consensus all-conference. Six times he was over 100 yards, and he got 216 against Kansas State.

The South has more than Walker ... but no other so good. Barry Redden is Richmond's runner. Floyd Allen does it for VMI. Cyrus Lawrence is VPI's pace-setter. Kelvin Bryant alternated with Amos Lawrence, since departed, and gained 1,039 for North Carolina. That's good for second team.

Southern Mississippi features Sammy Winder, national scoring leader with 20 touchdowns, just four yards short of a thousand rushing. Maryland's man is Charlie Wysocki, a compact runner who earned 1,359 yards and 11 touchdowns last season.

Walter Abercrombie of Baylor returns to hammer the Southwest Conference. As a junior, he led that league with 1,187. Eric Dickerson is best in a stable of wild horses at SMU. Johnny Hector sets a strong pace at Texas A&M. He averaged 5.4 as a sophomore, gained 928. Arkansas looks for junior Gary Anderson to con-

Texas A&M likes Johnny Hector's groundgaining style.

Allen is the West Coast star but Stanford's Darrin Nelson is a worthy rival. Twice this tidbit (5-9, 179) has rushed for 1,000 and caught 50 passes or more. In sub-par 1980, Darrin settled for 47 receptions and 889 on the ground. It must be discouraging to get old.

Rodney Holman pulls in passes for Tulane.

San Jose State thinks Gerald Willhite is honors material. He rushed for 1,210, caught 44 passes for 492 and scored 14 touchdowns. He hit Stanford for three TDs and 138 yards.

Famous quarterbacks are plentiful. Some are scramblers. Some throw darts. A few do both. John Fourcade of Mississippi broke Archie Manning's school record with 2,299 in total offense last season. Fourcade pegged four touchdown passes against Alabama, completed 16 of 21 against Tulane. Twice he has led the rugged Southeastern Conference in total offense. His career total is 5,001.

Mike Machurek set three school records at Idaho State. Northeast Louisiana keeps more detailed records. John Holman broke or tied 18!

Steve Stamp of Texas Christian was a sub until Game 5. He still found time to throw for 1,830 and 14 touchdowns. Baylor couldn't handle him. Stamp stuck 408 on the Bears.

Oliver Luck is good news at West Virginia. He'll try to improve on 19 touchdown passes. Pittsburgh, in two years, has enjoyed 3,289 yards and 25 touchdowns from QB Dan Marino.

Coupled with the success of quarterbacks are two kinds of targets, the acrobats and the tall oak trees. Carter is a stunt man for Michigan . . . 14 touchdowns in his sophomore season, and a school career kickoff return record in just two campaigns.

"Anthony is the most gifted athlete I've been around," says Bo Schembechler, Michigan's coach. "He's the first sophomore ever selected MVP by our team."

Anthony Hancock of Tennessee is a burner, a hurdler and sprinter in track. Gary Williams catches for Schlichter at Ohio State. Cormac Carney does the miracle bit at UCLA.

Stanley Washington thinks passes are never out of reach at TCU. Brian Kelley and Mike Redding share honors at Holy Cross. Together, they shagged 88 last fall.

Purdue has a tall-pine type in Steve Bryant, 6-3 and 185, slow to take up football, now very fast. He caught 50 for 892 yards as a junior, eight for 180 against Iowa.

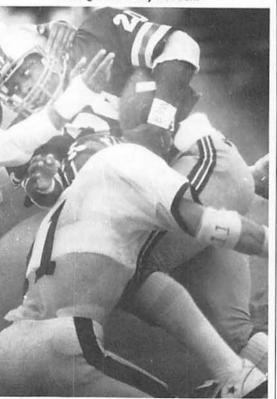

Perry Tuttle is in receiving range of Jerry Butler's school records at Clemson. He caught 53 last fall for 915, needs 41 and 572 more to become very famous.

Wake Forest looks often for Kenny Duckett (50-656-12 TDs, an Atlantic Coast Conference record). Notre Dame tries for Tony Hunter. North Texas State knows Pete Harvey can go. He's 5-10 and 170 but he caught 47 last fall.

Nobody beat Rainey Meszaros, University of Pacific—11 on one Saturday, 68 on the year!

Tight ends aren't so numerous but they are full-grown men. Rice points to Robert Hubble, 6-8, 252, with hands to hold 38 passes, movie-star looks and powerful blocking moves. Hubble wants to be in Congress. It'll take a large doorman to keep him out.

Tulane's big target is Rodney Holman, 6-3, 230. This great Greenie caught 42 as a junior and ran over a fair share of defensive backs.

California has one in David Lewis. Brown believes in Steve Jordan. Rod Childs of Idaho State led the Big Sky in receiving (41 for 640). No other tight end has set such a standard.

Anywhere you see a strong offense, look around for the reasons. They are called linemen. Michigan has three Schembechler considers special ... tackles Bubba Paris and Ed Muransky, guard Kurt Becker.

Houston has a hero in Maceo Fifer, 6-5, 280. Don't laugh, but his nickname is Bunny. Utah State's Brian Christensen, 6-5, 275, carries a meaner handle. He is Andre the Giant. Utah finds a wide path behind Jack Campbell, 6-5, 275. Virginia expects leadership from tackle Dave Sullivan. At 6-8 and 270, he's easy to see.

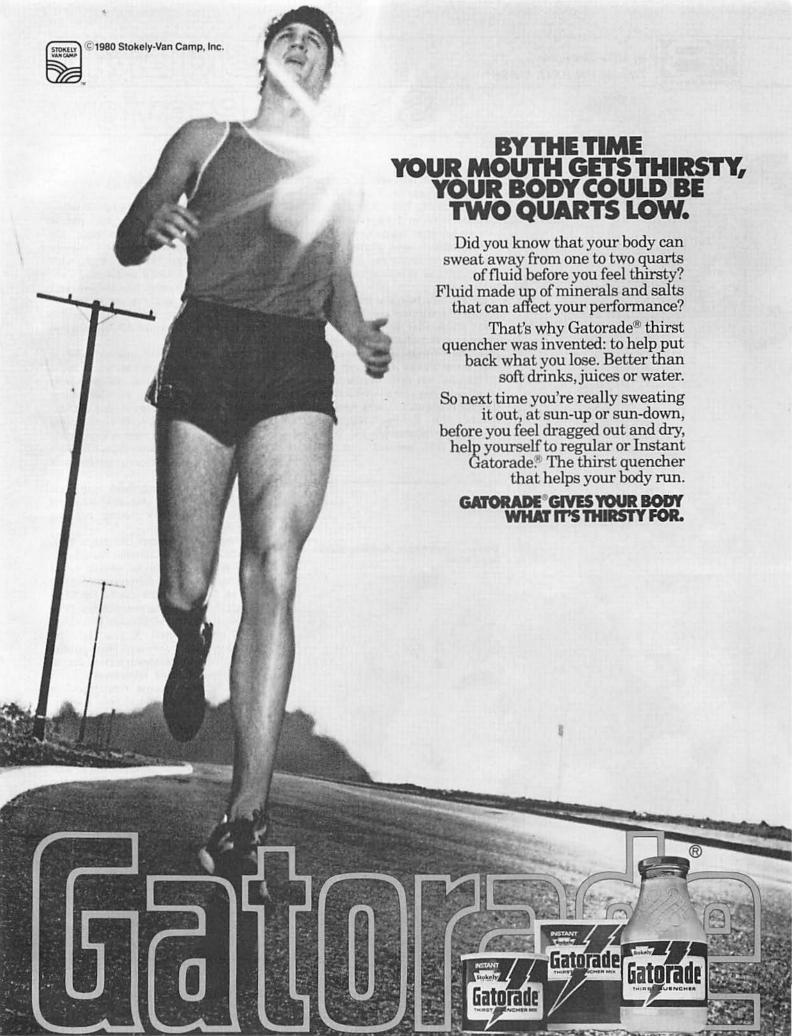

Vanderbilt has a winner in Ken Hammond, 6-4, 278. Tops at Texas is Terry Tausch, a finance major.

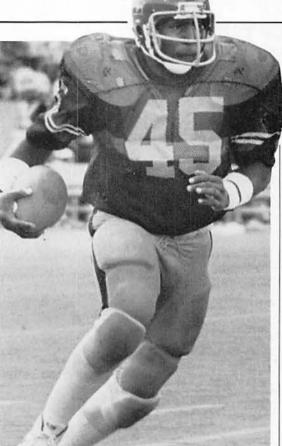

The best lineman in America might be Roy Foster of Southern Cal. "As remarkable as this sounds, Roy is better physically than was Brad Budde," says Coach Robinson

Joe Paterno speaks up for Sean Farrell at Penn State, says he's as good a guard as there is in college. Ohio State believes the same about Joe Lukens. Nebraska lines up behind center Dave Rimington, 270 and quick.

Smart runners shadow the best linemen . . . Brad Edelman at Missouri, Lee North at Tennessee, Terry Crouch at Oklahoma, Loucis Roseburrow at Grambling, Tom Jelesky at Purdue.

Linemen come up short in credit but they are co-stars where proud points are scored.

or the second year in a row, there are no new head football coaches in the Big Eight. Some things will stay the same in the conference which sent Oklahoma, Nebraska and Missouri to post-season bowl games a year ago, the 12th time in the last 13 seasons the Big Eight has produced at least three bowl teams.

For the time being, at least, there is job security for winners and losers alike. But don't think that because the men in charge haven't changed, the conference race will be mundane or even predictable. Some things will change.

Heading into this conference season, all three of last year's bowl teams had to look for new quarterbacks. Gone are Missouri's Phil Bradley, Nebraska's Jeff Quinn and Oklahoma's J.C. Watts, who finished first, second and third, respectively, in the Big Eight in individual total offense.

For the first time in four years, Bradley, the Big Eight's all-time total offense leader, won't be the first team, allconference quarterback. The scramble for that distinction likely will begin with Darrell Dickey, a junior and son of Kansas State head coach Jim Dickey, and Frank Seurer, a sophomore at Kansas whose skills have been compared to those of former Alabama All-America Joe Namath.

There will be new quarterbacks at Oklahoma, Nebraska and Missouri, while transfer Jon English will compete with incumbent John Quinn for that job at Iowa State. John Doerner is back at Oklahoma State, and Colorado head coach Chuck Fairbanks has sophomore Randy Essington who, Fairbanks says, has more talent for his age than any quarterback he's coached.

If answers to quarterback questions don't make for a wild and crazy Big Eight season, the league's young running backs will.

To begin with, Kansas tailback Kerwin Bell, the Big Eight's Offensive Newcomer of the Year as a freshman, almost didn't come back. Bell was dismissed from the team by Jayhawk head coach Don Fambrough during spring practice but later was reinstated by Fambrough. Bell's ability is unquestioned. A year ago, he rushed for 1,114 yards and drew publicity which might have been turned in other, equally-deserving, directions.

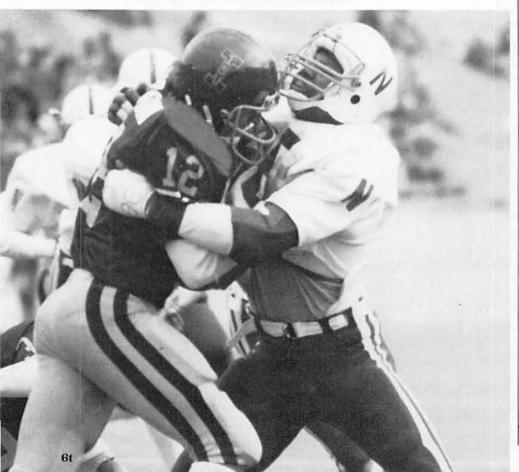

Iowa State's Dwayne Crutchfield, a junior college transfer and now a senior. led the conference in rushing with 1,312 yards but wasn't the Offensive Newcomer of the Year because Bell was.

Oklahoma's Buster Rhymes gained 659 yards for the season and scored the winning touchdown against Nebraska in the Big Eight title showdown, but he ranked behind Bell as the best freshman running back in the conference.

Rhymes' teammate Stanley Wilson, a junior and one of the best fullbacks in the Big Eight, also rushed for 659 yards a year ago. During spring practice, Wilson decided he wanted to join Rhymes as a halfback in the Sooner wishbone. OU head coach Barry Switzer, a master at omewhere in the American psyche is the image of the substitute football player.

STRATEGY OF SUBSTITUTION

He is the rider of the pine, the spear-carrier in a platoon of machine gunners.

At banquets, when the coach gets around to saying something nice about his subs, people usually smile politely and nod.

Until recently, that is.

Coaches are finding new ways of using more of the talent at their disposal. More players are actually playing college football, if only for a few plays a game.

This strategy is paying dividends. It gives the coach a fresh player with a specific skill to fit a specific need, and it gives him a squad full of young zealots who are certain their contributions are truly important to the team.

There are still those who prefer their football 1940s-style. One platoon. Men were men. Who cared if everybody was too tired to dance at the prom?

Some of today's young players are not playing football at all, they contend, but instead are playing Defensive End or Offensive Guard.

There is a bit of truth in that, admitted a head coach of a southern independent. But, he said, "I'd rather have things the way they are now, and I think football fans would, too.

"I played in those days when we went both ways. I know there was no way we could come close to playing with the skills these kids today show. You had to rest sometime, and you'd take your choice of when—on offense or on defense.

"In practice, we'd have to divide our time and work on both offense and defense, and on the kicking game. We just didn't have time to learn all there is to know about any one thing.

"Now we can take the kids and concentrate on improving their best skills. It gets more players involved. It's just a better game."

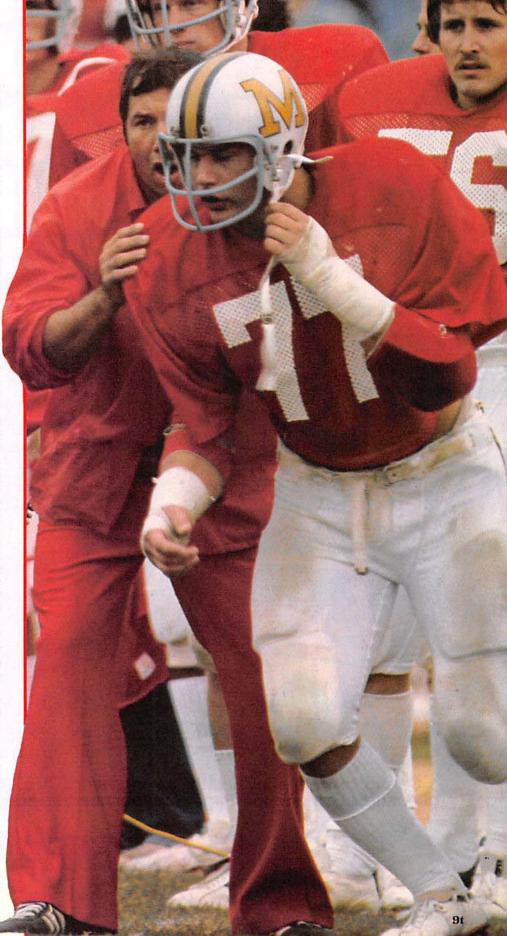

In the 1980s, substitutions are made for many reasons, not just because somebody is injured or needs some air.

"We substitute when we change offensive and defensive formations," said the coach of a midwestern power.

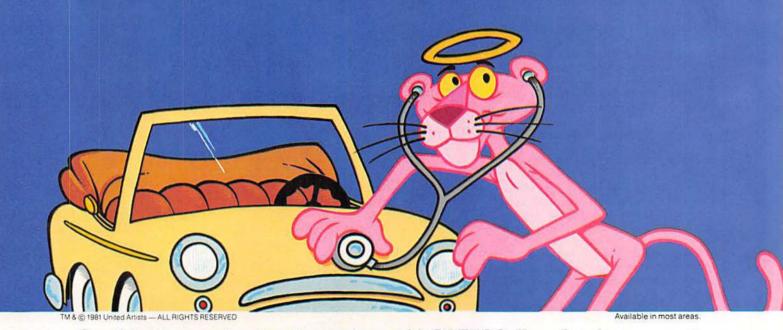

"We run from the I formation, from the Wishbone, from the split T, from just about everything.

"Say we're using a formation with just one running back behind the quarterback. That gets four receivers into the game—two tight ends and two wideouts. You think we can't spread a defense out with that formation?

"You can pass from it, or you can run from it, but you can get better deception on a running play if you have at least one more running back in there. So maybe we'd put in a running back for a wide receiver, and maybe we'd have a better-blocking tight end or tackle we'd want to use."

Wouldn't that telegraph the play call? If you send in a 240-pound fullback on third-and-one, won't the defense know he's going to run right at 'em?

"Well," he answered, "it's the same thing as putting in a fifth or sixth defensive back in a passing situation. If you're on defense, you pretty much know what's coming, and if you're on offense, you know the defense has an idea of what you're going to do.

"Okay, say he knows you're going to run. But he still doesn't know WHERE you're going to run—right, or left, or up the middle."

However often substitutions are made, and for whatever reason, most coaches play percentage football.

When the situation calls for a pass, most coaches are going to pass. When it calls for a run, most coaches are going to run.

What coaches can do with substitutions is to get the best people they have for a specific situation into the game for that situation.

Substituting becomes especially difficult when a team is facing an unpredictable opponent, one that runs multiple offensive formations.

As one coach pointed out, "When you have to wait until they come out of the huddle to find out what formation they're going to be in, you're not going to have time to substitute to counteract it.

"What you do then is call your defense with regard to down and distance and substitute accordingly."

Sometimes substitutions are made specifically to act as decoys, to fool an opponent.

This kind of tactic is particularly effective when players on a team have established reputations. If everyone on the field knows that Joe Smith, for example, is good at catching the possession pass eight yards down the field, he might be put in to run that route, then break it downfield.

That's a two-edged sword.

"I thought that, too," one master of strategy admitted. "The first time I faced a really well-recognized coach, I tried to fool him that way.

"I knew he'd be well-prepared, and I knew he'd try to counteract whatever I did

"Well, I sent in this fast little wide receiver and used him to try to clear out for my tight end, and danged if their safety man didn't recover and intercept the pass.

"I used my best running back as a decoy most of the day. I thought it would get my other backs loose, because I knew they'd be keving on him anyway.

"Well, they stopped my other backs and by the time I went to my best guy, we were behind 35-to-0."

In recent years, some major teams have succeeded with a two-quarterback system. One will clearly be a superior passer to the other, and the other a superior runner.

An odd thing happened, though. Some of those teams' most significant successes under these circumstances have occurred when the passer ran, or the runner passed.

But most coaches don't like to alternate quarterbacks. There's the very simple, practical matter of voice inflection and cadence. When a new quarterback comes in, the timing of the entire team can change.

Another point is leadership. Not all quarterbacks are good leaders. Naturally, coaches want the best leader in the quarterback position. Many coaches feel that it is not a good practice to divide leadership as there is a danger of dividing the loyalties of the team members.

Most coaches prefer to substitute at quarterback only when the game has already been decided and they want the No. 2 man to get some game experience.

Where is college football headed? Will there someday soon be a first-and-10 unit, a second-and-five team, and a third-and-short yardage team?

No, said a southern coach, who believes the art of substitution has gone about as far as it can go.

"Well," he said, "for one thing, the logistics of it are prohibitive. It would occupy too many assistant coaches just making sure the right people were at the right place at the right time—either in the game, or in a specific area waiting to go in at the right time.

"We have a lot of players, but not enough to do that.

"You want to substitute a lot to get more people involved and keep everyone fresh, but sometimes there's a big dropoff in ability from your starters to your second-stringers. You have to be careful not to overdo it.

"Right now you can get your best 'skilled' people—your quarterbacks and receivers and runners—into the ball game for the situations where they're most likely to be successful.

"I think in college football we use as many people as we possibly can."

Sending in the right player at the right time is the key to substitution strategy.

Tailgate Picnics

ailgating in traffic is a nuisance, but tailgate picnics are another story. Just ask any football fan. Most look forward to the pre-game meal and camaraderie nearly as much as the game itself.

The R. T. French Company's Test Kitchens in Rochester, N. Y. have two topping suggestions which will perk up both the standard hamburger and hot dog fare and are guaranteed to please the hungriest fan.

Sauteed Bermuda Onions, combined with sour cream and mustard, add a delightful taste to those same old burgers.

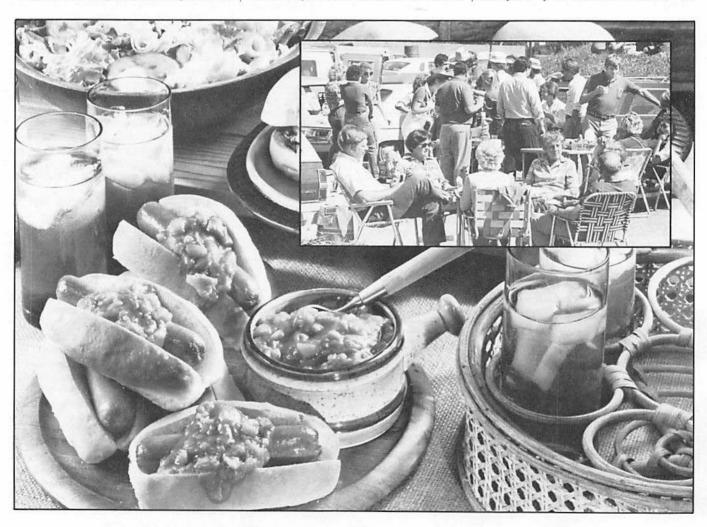

Or if you prefer hots, dress them up with a zesty topping of crushed pineapple, green pepper and tomato paste added to an envelope of sloppy joe seasoning.

The toppings are best when served warm, so place them in small containers on the corner of the grill until the burgers and hot dogs are ready to eat.

Both of these recipes were among the favorites of newspaper food editors nationwide last year, so let their educated palates be your guide.

Serve either or both dishes at your next outing with a crisp green salad and fresh fruit for dessert. Whether you're in the stadium's parking lot or your own back yard—your crowd will cheer.

Nebraska's Roger Craig, now a junior, finished second in the Big Eight and sixth in the nation in scoring but didn't start. He was a third-string I-back for the Cornhuskers, who won the NCAA rushing title, the sixth time in 10 years a Big Eight team has done that. This year, Craig becomes a starter.

According to the Big Eight Service Bureau, the conference has 92 returning starters, none of whom played quarterback for Oklahoma, Nebraska or Missouri. Based on that fact and considering the return of some young running backs, it should be an interesting season. Here's the way it looks:

COLORADO Fairbanks entered the season ranked 27th in winning percentage among active NCAA Division I-A coaches. Two seasons at Colorado account for 18 of his 33 career losses and only four of his 56 victories.

A key to recovering from a 1-10 record last season will be shoring up the Buffalo defense, which ranked 138th in the na-defense, and yielded 82 points in a loss to Oklahoma. Junior free safety Ellis Wood led the secondary in tackles with Offensively, Ricky Ward started five games and led the team in receiving with 25 catches for 428 yards. Charles Davis, a quarterback converted to fullback halfway through the season, was the team's No. 2 rusher with 395 yards.

IOWA STATE Coach Donnie Duncan is surrounded by juniors who already have earned two letters apiece. The Cyclones have more returning starters (18) than any team in the conference, and they have Crutchfield, who led them to a No. 19 ranking in the nation in rushing offense, behind a line built around tackle Karl Nelson.

Said an Oklahoma linebacker of the 6-0, 230-pound Crutchfield: "One guy can't bring him down. I had a bruised ear and a headache from trying to tackle him. I have to compare him with Earl Campbell (former Heisman Trophy winner at Texas)."

Three-fourths of Iowa State's secondary, which finished second by one yard to conference rival Kansas State as the NCAA's stingiest pass defense, returns, including Ronnie Osborne, John Arnaud, and Joe Brown.

inebacking looms as the glamor position defensively in college football for 1981.

There are more linebackers returning with established credentials than at any other position, with Notre Dame's Bob Crable heading the list as a returning All-America.

Crable, the two-time Irish captain, was voted most valuable player by his teammates last season and his 354 career tackles rank him fourth on the all-time Irish list.

But at least a baker's dozen linebackers have close to the statistics and the "rep" of the Irish captain.

Chip Banks of USC was All-Pac-10 and third team All-America last year, with 10 pass deflections, 107 tackles (15 for losses), two fumble recoveries, and an incredible steal of Notre Dame quarterback Mike Courey's attempted pass which was returned 49 yards to clinch the victory over Notre Dame.

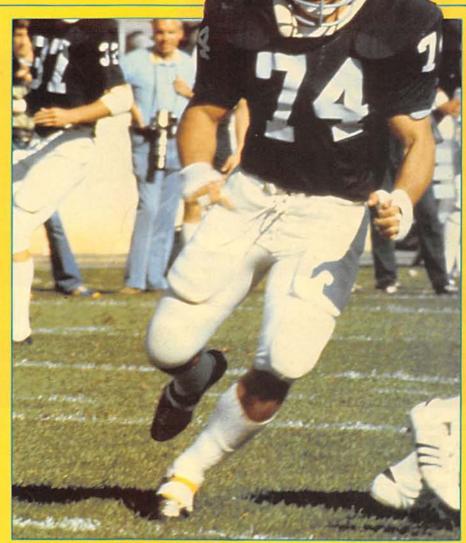

Robert Thompson of Michigan is named the most underrated linebacker, but Coach Bo Schembechler calls him "A definite honors candidate."

A big-play type, Thompson's 84 total tackles included 15 for 60 yards in losses.

As a junior, Alabama's Thomas Boyd won some second and third team All-America honors after leading the Tide with 72 solo and 48 assisted tackles. His big game was against Notre Dame when he had 14 solo tackles and five assists including one tackle for a three-yard loss.

Noted for his "agility, hostility and mobility," Robert Abraham of North Carolina State was a ringleader in holding Duke to minus 13 yards rushing, William and Mary to just three yards and two other opponents to less than 100 yards rushing, with a season's total of 130 tackles.

They are classing Marcus Marek with the great Ohio State linebackers. A twoyear starter for the Buckeyes, Marek totaled 140 tackles last year in winning All-Big Ten honors, as well as Academic All-America recognition.

A year ago Calvin Daniels of North Carolina was over-shadowed by consensus All-America star Lawrence Taylor, but still totaled 32 solo tackles and 18 assists, including 10 tackles for losses.

Darrell Nicholson of North Carolina teams with Daniels in a fine unit. He was leading tackler on the 11-1 ACC championship team.

California is high on Rich Dixon, a senior who set a Pac-10 record as a soph with an interception return of 78 yards for a score against Washington State. He earned All-Pac-10 and All-Coast as a junior.

Another outstanding linebacker is Stuart Anderson of Virginia, who has a three-year tackle total of 341, including 39 for losses.

Always-tough Auburn selects Danny Skutack, who played the entire second half of the North Carolina State game with a broken leg in 1978, "because the team needed me." He had his best games last year against Alabama, Georgia and LSU, with 13, 11 and 12 tackles respectively.

With the Most Valuable Defensive Player trophy from the Liberty Bowl game against Purdue, Missouri's Van Darkow returns as the No. 2 tackler as well as a top student, with a 3.72 grade point in pre-med.

Another big-play man is Vernon Maxwell of Arizona State, who led the team in defensive points. Maxwell had his best game against Arizona when he blocked a punt and recovered for a touchdown, recovered a fumble, intercepted a pass, sacked the quarterback twice and had 16 tackles.

Steve Damkroger is another in a long line of players from his family on the Cornhusker roster. His best game was 17 tackles against Oklahoma.

Johnie Cooks of Mississippi State, a 6-5, 240-pound middle linebacker, was a prime force in victories over Miami and Alabama. He is credited with being a main reason for the turn-around from a 3-8 to a 9-3 season in two years.

Washington's Mark Stewart's credentials include 17 tackles against Oregon, 15 against Oklahoma State and 11 against Arizona.

Two other linebackers certain to receive top consideration for honors are Grady Turner of Houston and Sal Sunseri of Pitt, the latter with five interceptions to go with his 81 tackles and the former honored as the AP's National Defensive Player of the Week for his stand against Arkansas.

Other linebackers who have good credentials, but are not as well-known, include Mike Johnson of Nevada-Las Vegas and teammate Reggie Williams, a redshirt transfer from Oregon State; John Schachter from Northern Arizona; Kirk Harmon of Pacific; Jeff Rohrer of Yale; Steve Conjar of Temple, called the "Incredible Hulk" at 5-10 and 231; Joe Skladany of Lafayette, a brother of the Ohio State punter of a few years ago; and Kevin Sheesley of Colorado State, three-time Western Athletic Conference wrestling champ at 190 pounds.

Brad Reese of Akron, Craig Shaffer of Indiana State, Jim Budness of Boston College, Steve Lehor of Hawaii, Danny Rich of Weber State and Joe Wilkins of Maryland are others to watch.

Baylor's Vann McElroy tied for the nation's lead in interceptions.

Chris Cosgrove of Oregon is coming off an injury which gave him another year of eligibility, while Ricky Hunley of Arizona is ranked the best Wildcat player in the last 10 years, with 14 tackles against UCLA.

Darrell Patterson of Texas Christian; Jeff Davis of Clemson; Vanderbilt's "Secretary of Defense," Andrew Coleman; Texas A & M's Mike Little (who claims to be the smallest player at his position); Mike L. Cofer, a junior switched from end to linebacker in the spring at Tennessee; and the twin tigers at Oklahoma State, Ricky Young and Mike Green, also will challenge for honors.

There should be several wide-open battles for the defensive end honors this year.

Among the headliners are Jimmy Williams of Nebraska, outstanding defensive player in the Sun Bowl and a 4.34 speedster at 6-3, 217 pounds and Larry Kubin of Penn State, granted a fifth year after a practice injury last year, and called by Joe Paterno "as good as any end we have had."

Grambling may have the tallest end in 6-8, 235-pound Robert Smith, a former tight end switched to defense, while Arkansas is high on Billy Ray Smith, the only player who started every game for Coach Lou Holtz as a freshman and who was defensive player of the game in the Hall of Fame Bowl. Smith was a two-year starter at tackle but moved to end to get more action in the spring.

Keith Baldwin of Texas A & M was a key figure in the Aggie victory over Ole Miss as he twice sacked the quarterback in the fourth quarter to save the game televised game.

Mississippi is backing James Otis, the second leading tackler on the squad, who will be a junior. He had 13 unassisted tackles against Tennessee as a frosh.

Iowa's Andre Tippett led his team in sacks with 20 for minus 153 yards, while Virginia Tech's Robert Brown is highly rated.

Among other defensive ends are Eugene Williams of Tulsa; John Harper of Southern Illinois; Don Fielder of Kentucky; and Mark Bradley of Georgia Tech, who came off a 1980 injury to "totally dominate the line of scrimmage," according to Coach Bill Curry in the spring.

Jimmie Carter of New Mexico was the team's second leading tackler as a freshman last year and BYU's Brad Anae had nine sacks and returned one intercepted pass 45 yards for a touchdown.

Tony Hayes of Florida A & M has 12 sacks among his 88 tackles while Tim Ford of Western Kentucky was named a first team Division I-AA All-America on the basis of his two-year total of 184 tackles.

Rusty Guilbeau of McNeese State weighs 255 and runs a 4.9 in the 40, as well as bench pressing more than 400 pounds. Arthur King of Grambling State is coming off injuries which hampered him a year ago. Steve Raquet of Holy Cross was ECAC co-rookie of the year as a frosh in 1980 and will be a future star. And Glenn Jones of Murry State was second team College Division All-America and two-time All-Ohio Valley star.

The tackles are led by Kenneth Sims of Texas, a consensus All-America from a year ago. At 6-6 and 265, he was second in team tackles with 131, with 100 unassisted, and registered 13 sacks.

and 270, but he has 4.8 speed and a 26-inch vertical jump. He was outstanding in UCLA's 17-0 shutout of Ohio State, sacking Art Schlichter four times to earn Player of the Game honors.

In Texas they call Texas Tech's Gabriel Rivera "Señor Sack" and despite his 280 pounds on a 6-3 frame, he runs the 40 in 4.77. He started the past two years as a noseguard and led the club in tackles for a down lineman both years. Rivera is at defensive tackle this season.

Edmund Nelson of Auburn is 6-4 and 252. He played defensive end a year ago and noseguard and tackle in 1979. He is a top scholar whose parents almost made him drop football when his grades slacked off early in his career.

Fletcher Jenkins of Washington earned lineman of the week honors for his 12-tackle performance against USC.

Henry Waechter is rated the best pass rusher on the Nebraska squad, at 6-6 and 275. He has great quickness for his size.

Houston's Bill Yeoman claims tackle Terry Monroe is as good at the point of attack as any player he has had at that position, while Reggie White, a 6-5 soph at Tennessee, was the sensation of the spring practice.

Steve Clark of Utah may be the best lineman in the Western Athletic Conference. He came off knee surgery a year ago to earn all-conference and All-America honorable mention.

Minnesota has a pair of junior tackles who will bear watching in Kevin Kellin, 6-6 and 240, and Steve Bisch, 6-5 and 258.

Shamus McDonough came on fast in the last five games for Iowa State, including a 12-tackle performance against Oklahoma.

Andrew Provence of South Carolina had 11 tackles against Southern California in 1980, playing over Trojan All-America Keith Van Horne.

Despite the fact that teams ran away from his position, Jerome Foster of Ohio State had 83 tackles and was considered the most underrated player on the defense.

Among the other top tackles are David Galloway, outstanding defensive player for Florida in the Tangerine Bowl; the twin tackles at LSU, Bill Elko and Ramsey Dardar; Jimmy Payne of Georgia, All-SEC last year; Clenzie Pierson of Rice, a 6-7 junior and Rutgers' Mike Rustemeyer and Bill Pickel.

Princeton nominates Jono Helmerich, a 6-5 co-captain with good mobility, while Wyoming's best defensive lineman is Rick Farnsworth.

Among the others to watch are Dave Scheller of Ball State; Sedrick Brown of The Citadel; Randy Trautman of I-AA champion Boise State; Mark Seale of Richmond; Dave Davis of Wichita State; Max Gill of Northern Illinois; Mike Perko of Utah State; and Pat Curry of Montana.

At the middle noseguard posts, Warren Lyles of Alabama is tabbed "quicker than a hiccup." The outstanding player in the 1981 Cotton Bowl, he has great speed and sets up tackles for 'Bama linebackers.

Mark Jerue was Washington's most valuable defensive player in the Rose Bowl and was credited with 16 tackles against Oklahoma and with 14 stops in three other games.

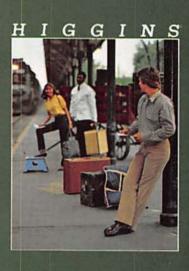

Michael Carter, 6-2 and 265, of SMU, was defensive MVP in the Holiday Bowl.

Oklahoma's Johnnie Lewis was named AP National Lineman of the Week for his play against Nebraska when he had 14 unassisted tackles.

Navy's Tim Jordan didn't start playing football until his junior year in high school; he had been in the band. Jordan came on strong last year and Coach George Welsh admits, "I didn't see anyone as good as he was last year at noseguard. He probably is the best we've had at that position in recent years."

Wisconsin's Tim Krumrie made All-Big Ten last year as a soph as the Badgers jumped from 105th nationally in defense against the rush to No. 11, giving up only 117.5 yards a game. Krumrie also is a heavyweight wrestler.

Eddie Weaver of Georgia was voted All-SEC last year and defensive lineman of the game for his performance against Georgia Tech. He's 6-0 and weighs 270 and is also a top man in the shot.

Other candidates for the position include Falaniko (Niko) Noga of Hawaii, a soph; Elvin Keller of West Texas State; Fred Nordgren of Portland State; Willis Carolina of Tulsa and Greg Azar of New Mexico.

Underclassmen seem to dominate the cornerbacks, with Lupe Sanchez of UCLA rated outstanding.

He was second to Kenny Easley in tackles with 71, including seven behind the line, along with three interceptions. He has started 19 straight games for the Bruins and led the team with 13 passes broken up.

Perry Williams of North Carolina State is another junior who is rated as potentially one of the finest to come out of the ACC.

Three other juniors to watch are Steve Brown of Oregon, whose 36-yard return contributed to victory over Washington; Tommy Wilcox of Alabama, who had nine solo tackles and 10 assists and a pass deflected in the loss to Notre Dame; and Ray Horton of Washington, who also was fourth nationally in punt returns, with a 73-yarder against USC, a key to the victory.

A senior, Dennis Tabron of Duke, is well-respected—he intercepted five passes for 132 yards and was a top kick return man.

Other cornerbacks with good statistics are Dana McLemore of Hawaii, who was all-conference as a return specialist in '79 and All-WAC last season; Larry Hogue, a senior at Utah State; and Jeff Gradinger, rated the best defensive back at Brown in the last 10 years.

Washington State was impressed last year with Paul Sorensen, who had transferred from junior college, and started, while Louisville is touting Leon Williams, a three-year starter with 11 interceptions. South Carolina State is boosting Thomas Tutson, who came back to start the last two seasons after a back injury, and San Diego State is counting on Mike Fox, who led the NCAA in kickoff returns in 1980 with a 32.8 yard average.

Louisiana State is expecting James Britt to reach his potential as a senior after starting every game since Indiana in 1978 (except three missed games as a soph due to injury); Gill Byrd of San Jose State totaled 85 tackles, one fumble recovery, 15 pass deflections and seven interceptions last year in winning PCAA honors; and Oklahoma junior Darrell Songy may be the best player of the crop.

New Mexico State's James Ferebee will be in the record books for blocking 19 kicks (eight field goals, six PATs and five punts). Houston's Donnie Love is a veteran who hasn't had enough recognition.

Baylor's Vann McElroy intercepted eight passes to tie for the nation's lead and stamp himself as an honors safety candidate. He also had 12 tackles against Alabama in the Cotton Bowl.

Tim Seneff of Purdue, 6-2 and 210, may be the biggest safety in major college football, but he's the No. 2 returning tackler, with his best showing against Notre Dame (nine solo tackles, eight assists and a fumble recovery). He was first team Academic All-America, too.

Johnny Jackson of the Air Force had 99 tackles, 15 passes deflected, two interceptions, four fumbles recovered and one bobble caused, with 18 tackles against Notre Dame as his busiest day. He's the best the Falcons have had, maybe ever.

Freddie Marion of University of Miami already holds the school career record for tackles by a defensive back and he needs just three more interceptions for a school interception record.

In his first year (after transferring from J.C.) at Michigan State, Thomas Morris became the first Spartan back in history to lead his team in tackles with 114. He's also a great punt return specialist, 26 for 185 yards.

Stanford's soph sensation, Vaughn Williams, won freshman All-America honors as a starter last year, while Arizona State's Mike Richardson was voted All-Pac-10 as a soph last year with his eight interceptions.

Wyoming has a top tackler in John Salley. Tulane likes Lionel Washington.

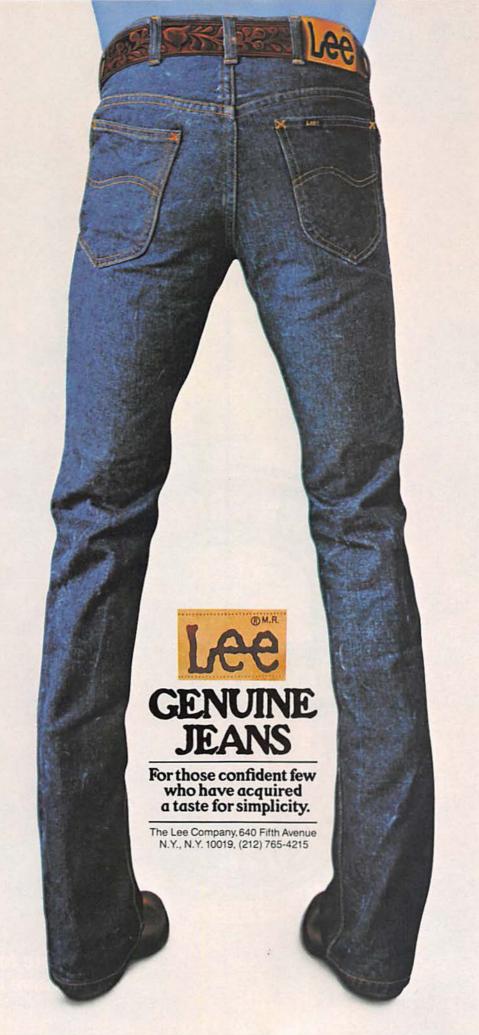

Mike Robb of Minnesota was named to All-Big Ten second team as a soph and was on the conference's first Academic team.

Among the other safeties to watch are Mike Haynes of Grambling State; Rick Woods of Boise State; George Schmitt of Delaware; and Toledo's Mike Kennedy.

A 40-YEAR-OLD PLAYING COLLEGE FOOTBALL?

Joe Kline(23) and the Roger Williams College football team made national headlines.

by Jack Clary

he stars of college football in 1960 still are recognizable names ... quarterbacks Roman Gabriel of N.C. State and John Hadl of Kansas ... tailback Billy Kilmer of UCLA ... running back Joe Bellino of Navy, who won the Heisman Trophy ... tight end Mike Ditka of Pitt ... and defensive linemen Merlin Olsen of Utah State and Bob Lilly of Texas Christian.

That was 21 years ago and those players all were 20 or 21 years of age. At Paul Smith College, in upstate New York, there was another 20-year-old player in 1960 named Joe Kline, whose name never made any national headlines and who was just as interested in forestry as he was in football.

Twenty years afterward, it's 1980 and Gabriel, Hadl, Kilmer, Bellino et. al., are long gone from the gridiron-but not Joe Kline. He had one more year of football left in his 40-year-old bones, and he gave it willingly for Roger Williams College, a small four-year school in Bristol, R.I., and only a short punt from Narragansett Bay, whose gridiron program began in 1979 on a club level.

Joe Kline in real life is Lt. Col. Joseph Kline, a much-decorated 20-year Marine who flew over 600 missions as a helicopter pilot in Viet Nam, and who last year was allowed to finish an education interrupted in 1961 by military duty, as part of the Marine Corps' College Degree Program. Of course, there was nothing in the program that said a man also had to play intercollegiate football.

It certainly isn't in the thinking of those who might worship at the altar of eternal youth (by today's standards, that seems to be 19 to 29), so it is little wonder that he has been peppered by one question: Why did you do it?

"I felt I wanted to do it," he says. "I felt I could physically handle it and it seemed like the thing to do at the time. Most of all, I did it because I enjoyed it."

So, it seems, did his teammates and his coach, Ed Marapesse, who was two years Kline's junior, and more than a bit amazed when he showed up at fall practice a year ago, saying that he wanted to make the team as a defensive back.

"I didn't know what to think," Marapesse recalls, "Some of the

ABOUT THE AUTHOR: Jack Clary has been a full-time freelance writer specializing in sports since 1972. Prior to that he spent 15 years as a sportswriter-columnist for the AP, the New York World Telegraph & Sun and the Boston Herald Traveler. Clary has written eight books on football, including a collaboration with Paul Brown on Brown's autobiography.

kids had told me there was a 40-year-old Marine Corps colonel coming out for football, and I guess I was a bit uneasy. When I first saw him, I was surprised—yes and no—that he would try to make the team.

"I guess it was natural to be surprised when someone 40 years old says he wants to play college football. But when I looked at him, I wasn't that surprised because he was in top physical condition. And as the first week of practice went on, I wasn't surprised either, that he had trouble keeping up with the young guys after doing eight of our prescribed 15 40-yard wind sprints. But after one week, he held his own."

Perhaps anyone would have been surprised when a 40-year-old player shows up and says he wants to be a cornerback or safety. In today's football—at every level because all talent is relative—speed and great athletic ability are two of the primary requisites for corners and safties.

But Kline had played those positions before, first in high school in Merrick, Long Island, then at Paul Smith College, and through a series of Marine Corps post teams, the most recent having been only five years before. It was obvious, Marapesse recalls, that he did have some football schooling.

"His pass defense wasn't that bad," the coach says. "We played club teams and there wasn't the overall sophistication you find in higher competition. He made up for his lack of foot speed by the way he played against a receiver—the time-honored speed of the head vs. the speed of the legs, and he had it pretty well figured out."

His fellow players, all of whom were old enough to have Joe Kline as their father (indeed, his oldest son was a senior player at Portsmouth, R.I. High School), didn't quite know how to cope at first.

"Should we go all out against him?" several asked Marapesse before individual drills.

"Absolutely," the coach replied. "He's a player like everyone else."

Marapesse remembers one of the young players telling Kline before a blocking drill that he'd prefer not to go one-on-one "because I don't want to hurt you."

"Joe got mad," the coach recalls. "'Coach,' he said, 'I'll go if you want me to, but I want to go against him.' The two of them really went at it, and the kid kept blowing Joe away but he kept coming back. That one drill set an example for every player on our squad about the value of never giving up. There wasn't a player who didn't have the utmost respect for him after that day."

Kline's determination was an inspiration to the whole team.

The entire saga of Joe Kline's one-year varsity career at Roger Williams was wrapped up in inspiration. The team didn't win any of its eight games, but as the season wore on, instead of becoming discouraged, everyone became more intense, more determined to succeed. It seemed that every second half was played harder than the first half, and Marapesse lays much of the credit on Kline.

"He brought in some Marine Corps slogans and gave each of the players a copy. They were principles he lived by," Marapesse remembers, "and they began to mean something to the players, too."

Some of the world's cynics might smirk at hearing "... Courage is a moral quality—not a gift of nature like an aptitude for playing this game. It is a cold, calculating choice ... a fixed reaction not to quit ... an act of dedication made many times over by the will ..."

His teammates made it their code too, and it is one of the legacies which Kline has left behind for future teams.

"I really loved the experience," Kline says today. "I'm sure they were a bit wary of me, but they never showed it. I didn't try to impose my values on them and we got along fine. I think it will be something all of us will treasure, and even after the season ended, we stayed close. We'd meet in the cafeteria for coffee or play racquet-ball."

But how did they take to someone twice their age trying to compete against them?

"Most of them let me know, at one time or another, that I was old enough to be their father," Kline says, laughing. "But there were no problems. I think the feeling was, 'Why are you doing this, you old geezer?' and then they went after me on the practice field just as hard as they went after each other. And when I was tired and winded, someone would come along, give me a pat on the fanny and say, 'C'mon you old fool. You can do it.'"

Sometimes during practice, instead of making a blindside tackle or block, the younger players would wrestle him to the ground with their arms, and the blocks would be aimed higher up on the body. "I guess they didn't want to hurt the old man when nothing was at stake," he says, laughing again.

In the games, there was no such deference. In the opener against Stonehill College while covering a kickoff, Joe went flying one way, his helmet another. "It didn't bother me," he says, "because it was just great being on the field."

He played on all special teams, and his playing time as a defensive back varied from seven to eight minutes, to 15 or 20 minutes and finally, against Bentley, he played the entire game, made eight tackles and was beaten for a touchdown on a hook-and-go pass pattern. "I went for the hook, and the receiver went," he recalls. "I was 10 yards away when he caught the ball and I was furious."

Against Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he made a dozen tackles and admits he enjoyed the times when he had to play close to the line of scrimmage and stop the run.

It wasn't too long before New England was aware of the 40-year-old college player wearing jersey No. 23.

"It never meant anything during a game," he says. "Afterwards, all the coaches congratulated me, and so did many of the players. At the end of the season, I got a plaque for demonstrating determination from the New England Club Football Conference. I'll always cherish it."

His teammates say they'll always cherish their association with him, too, and there is a special meaning for Ed Marapesse.

"I benefited by coaching him," he says.
"He was someone you don't run into twice in a coaching career."

Reclining front seats, power brakes, side and rear window defoggers and a remote hatch release (quite a remote feature on ordinary hatchbacks) combine with 38 other standard features to make the '82 Cavalier the most complete new car we've ever introduced.

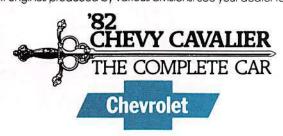

On the technical side, innovations in front-wheel drive, aerodynamic design and operating efficiency help add up to 43 Est. Highway/ 26 EPA Est. MPG.* And engine buffs will be interested to know Cavalier's standard 1.8 Liter, 4-cylinder engine actually delivers more horsepower per liter than some highly regarded V8s.

Plan your escape now.

Your Chevy dealer can help put your escape plan in motion, starting with a test drive. Get inside. Drive it around the block. Then all that's left to do is to decide whether you want to buy or lease a new 1982 Cavalier. Whichever you choose, one thing's for sure:

You won't have any trouble at all adjusting to your new freedom.

*Use estimated MPG for comparisons. Your mileage may differ depending on speed, distance, weather. Actual highway mileage lower. Chevrolets are equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.

The simple pleasures of driving a Honda Prelude. Starting from the top.

We think you'll agree, it's a real pleasure to look at.

But our sportiest Honda also sports the kind of features that make it a thrill to drive.

THE POWER-OPERATED MOONROOF. FOR OPENERS, IT'S STANDARD.

At the push of a button, the tinted-glass moonroof slides back. At the same time, an automatic deflector helps keep the wind out.

When you're behind the wheel, you'll be pleased at what you see in front of it. This year, the instrument panel houses a separate tachometer and speedometer, a quartz digital clock, a maintenance reminder and an electronic warning system.

Of course, the Prelude is just as much of a pleasure to sit in.

Its luxurious interior features comfortable bucket seats and adjustable headrests.

SOME SIMPLE ENGINEERING FACTS.

Our sportiest car has frontwheel drive, four-wheel independent suspension, rack and pinion steering and a responsive 1751cc CVCC engine. The fact is, the Honda Prelude is designed to give you years of good performance.

POWER STEERING COMES AUTOMATICALLY WITH THE AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION.

The 5-speed stick shift is standard. But with the optional automatic 3-speed, you also get variable-assist power steering.

And after you've weighed all your options, we hope you drive off in the Honda Prelude.

Where would a wise investor seek sound advice, attentive service, unbeatable information, and unmatched financial strength?

Merrill Lynch says, close to home.

Don't misunderstand. There's nothing wrong with searching far and wide for investment ideas. It's not easy to get rich these days.

But to search on your own is a full-time job-and-a-half. You have to read everything, digest it all, analyze the information, act on it...and do it fast, because opportunities become ancient history in precious little time.

Meanwhile, some of the best investment ideas are sitting practically on your doorstep, at a nearby office of Merrill Lynch.

We have the resources and the people to know, really know, investment opportunities as diverse as oil drilling partnerships and Treasury Bill futures, options and retirement plans.

Our research team is the best on Wall Street—in Wall Street's own opinion. And we make it easy to use that unrivaled resource: computer terminals at every Merrill Lynch office can instantly print out up-to-the-minute opinions on more than 1200 stocks.

Best of all is the way we tailor our advice to your requirements. Before offering a single suggestion, your Merrill Lynch Account Executive will spend a long while listening. Finding out what you really need. Because the smartest investment plans—the plans most likely to succeed—start with a clear definition of where they want to go. Are you looking for security or the opportunity to speculate? For current income or capital growth? What you tell us determines in large part what we tell you.

So we make a point of developing, for each customer, a sound long-term investment strategy, and we encourage you to stick with it and not be sidetracked by investment fads or temporary market aberrations. And we give you the security of knowing that we're going to stick with you and see you through to your goals. Merrill Lynch has more than $800 million in capital resources working for you, and we plan to be advising you long after all those fad investments have been written off.

So drop in at a nearby Merrill Lynch office and look over some of the brochures that explain our philosophy and way of doing things. Don't worry...we won't ask you to buy anything. In fact, we probably won't even let you, until we get to know you better.

There are plenty of women who enjoy watching football these days.

FAN Does She or Doesn't
She?

by Mary Schmitt, The Milwaukee JOURNAL t was halftime, and the two women headed for the rest room. As usual there was a crowd in line, so they made their way to a row of mirrors across the front of the room.

"You know," one said to the other, "I couldn't belive that they kept running the option against the stunts that the defensive ends were using. When I saw those, I thought the only thing they could run was misdirection plays to counteract that defense. Say, do you have a comb with you?"

Her friend nodded and began to rummage through her purse for the comb and some lipstick. "Here you go," she said, handing over the comb and stepping up to the mirror. "You could be right about the misdirection plays. But I've always felt that influence blocks work much better against a team that stunts a lot. But you've got to have a good blocking back for the influence blocking scheme to be effective."

An exaggeration? Probably. Most women football fans, or men football fans, for that matter, are not well-versed enough in the intricacies of football to conduct such a discussion. They leave those kinds of comments to coaches and players. But there is no question that the woman football fan today does—to answer the question in the title of this story understand the game. And there are any number of reasons for this.

With the fitness boom in this country, women are taking part in more sports than ever. In high schools and colleges, women are taking physical education courses and participating in interscholastic and intramural competition. Sometimes, those courses and competitions include football.

In addition, with the increasing popularity of college and professional football, and its increasing exposure on television, women can tune into a game almost any day of the week during the fall. Monday night, Thursday night, all day Saturday and Sunday.

And with all the play-by-play, color commentary, analysis and in-depth interviews, it would be almost impossible not to learn something from the broadcasts.

Of course, there are women who would not turn the game on themselves, but who have it turned on by boyfriends, husbands or other members of the family. They find that they need some knowlcontinued continued edge of the game just to carry on a conversation with the aforementioned persons.

Women faced with that problem in Knoxville, Tenn., were fortunate enough to have a class entitled, "All You Need to Know to Understand and Like Football" available to them. The noncredit course was offered by the University of Tennessee evening division and was taught by Gene Moeller, a former linebacker who played on Tennessee's 1951 national championship team.

According to Moeller, the class was his wife's idea. "Like anybody who gets involved in football, I didn't ever take the time to explain the finer points of the game to my wife. She came up with the idea for the class and really talked me into it.

"I gave the class with the understanding that I didn't want anybody who knew something about football. It was designed to be very basic. I had a full house—50 students for the two sessions—and about 85 percent of them were women.

"The first night of the class, I stood up and introduced myself and told them that we would start on the bottom with the very basics of football. Then I held up a jock strap. That broke everybody up, and we went on from there. We went through the history, basic rules, basic plays, positions, officials, the uniform, just everything. We had questions like 'What is a first down?' and 'What are those dashes on the field?'

"People really enjoyed it, and we had a big response for another class. I think that women are definitely more knowledgeable about football, especially with all the exposure on television. I think that there will be more and more demands by women, and the public in general, for more information."

At the University of Wisconsin, different types of classes were offered and at least five women are much more knowledgeable about football after taking Dr. John Olson's courses in football fundamentals and theory. The classes were offered for credit in the Department of Physical Education and were geared for students majoring in physical education or coaching. The fundamentals course was held on the field, and the theory course combined lecture and simulation. Both were taught by Olson, a former high school football coach.

"I have found that women get involved in and become knowledgeable about football as much as there is opportunity to do so," Olson said. "They came into the class with a basic orientation, but after they got into it and got serious about it, when they were asked to produce they really went after it.

"Women's participation and interest in sports is no longer frowned upon. Now it is just a question of making sports available to them. There is increased incentive to participate in sports or to know about sports if you can't participate. There are lots of women involved in sports in many different areas. And I think that's a very healthy sign."

Many different areas, indeed. Women now are not only fans, but also cheerleaders, pompon girls, trainers, reporters, sports information directors and assistants and, on occasion, officials,

More involved in sports than ever, today's female fan might just as likely be spotted on the sidelines shooting the game as up in the stands cheering the home team on.

Women are participating in the sports scene in all capacities.

coaches and players. And men coaches are noticing their increased involvement in and knowledge of the sport.

"I don't think there is any doubt that women have become more knowledgeable about football and athletics in general," said the coach of a perennial football power. "I think one of the main reasons is the increased opportunity for women as competitive athletes. No longer are women just spectators, they're active competitors. We have seen an increase in women attending our Qurterback Club and our football games.

"And we've seen an increase of women in the sports media covering football and other athletics."

Another coach said that his personal contact with women fans and media is rather limited, but that he has noticed an increase in the number of women who call in to his radio show.

"And judging from their questions, those ladies are very knowledgeable," he said. "But I have no idea how widespread this is."

One Big Ten coach thinks the trend is pretty widespread.

"I think women are becoming better and better football fans all the time. I think television is making more knowledgeable football fans out of them. I suspect they found out that if they're not fans, they're likely to become widows for four or five months out of the year.

"I find women eager to learn more about football. You'd be surprised at the number of speaking engagements I have with women's groups—secretaries, sororities, clubs, that sort of thing. And they ask some really intelligent questions. Sometimes too intelligent!"

As intelligent as the first two women in this article? Probably not. Not yet, anyway. But it's only a matter of time.

The Importance of the Holder

by John Jones, New Orleans TIMES-PICAYUNE

t is the most underrated starting assignment in college football. The Siberia of glamour. A non-stop flight to anonymity.

The holder on placekicks has the kind of job that gets noticed only when it isn't done well. His successes are rarely remembered. His mistakes are rarely forgotten.

During the course of any football season the holder is involved in as many scoring plays as a quarterback, running back or receiver. But the holder gets little credit and no respect, no respect at all.

If Rodney Dangerfield showed up at practice one day, he wouldn't have to be told where to line up. He'd stumble over to a kicking tee, drop to his knees and wait for a snap.

It is always the kicker, never the holder, whose name gets etched in the record books. There's never been a category for holders, never a hint of an award. Why can't there be a "He Didn't Foul Up Often" holder's trophy the way there are Heisman and Outland Trophies?

Even at colleges and universities renowned for their kicking games, sports information directors—a breed who earn their keep by being part historian, part publicist and full-time data bank have trouble recalling who it was that held the ball for Roger Rocketfoot's record 67-yard field goal.

Fortunately, football coaches perceive the role and importance of the holder in an entirely different light.

To gridiron tacticians, the holder can influence the outcome of a game like few other players because any time he comes in it is a "pressure" situation.

The holder must be someone with quick hands, soft hands, hands that can massage the pin out of hand grenade without the hand grenade knowing it.

But the holder must also be a leader, someone who resolutely makes the big play, not the big mistake.

He may be a receiver or a defensive back, but he is most often a backup quarterback. He must be mobile. And, he must have a good, accurate throwing arm inside of 15 yards.

"The first thing I definitely want is a quarterback," says a Pac-10 coach who in the national coaching fraternity is revered as a guru of special teams play. "A lot of teams go with receivers or guys with good hands, but I believe you need a quarterback for two reasons.

"One: fake field goal passes. You want the guy who's going to throw that ball to be passing every day in practice. Two: bad snaps. If we get a bad snap, our holder yells 'Fire!' and we automatically turn it into a pass play."

Because holders are invariably drafted from other positions, it is rare to have a scholarship athlete who does nothing but hold for kicks. College football is increasingly specialized, but not that specialized.

Holders and kickers first meet up in spring practice. Holders are rotated through a number of kickers, and it is not unusual in the spring for a kicker to request a certain holder because the "feeling" is right.

Once fall practice starts, however, the coaching staff makes a decision before the first game on who holds for place-kicks. The decision is often influenced by the desire to get a young quarterback immediate game experience. A backup holder, who isn't necessarily a quarter-economy that makes road work a sheer pleasure.

Use the estimated mpg for comparison. Your mileage may differ depending on speed, distance, weather. Actual highway mileage lower. This coupe is not available in California, where the best J2000 highway estimate is 43, and EPA estimated mpg is 26.

Now the joy of our new J2000 Coupe doesn't end with good mileage. Once you ease into the cockpit, you'll know exactly what we mean. The standard fully reclining front bucket seats, striking instrument panel and floor-mounted 4-speed manual transmission with overdrive make it a driver's delight. There's also standard side window defoggers, a Delco-GM AM radio with integral digital clock (may back, and backup center for placekicks are also named.

Holders, kickers and kick snappers form a unique, three-man unit that must accomplish its mission flawlessly within 1.1 to 1.5 seconds.

"If the ball's not in the air by then," says a young Southeastern Conference head coach who once had a backup holder save a game for him, "you're going to have it blocked."

The kicking unit works on its own time up to 10 minutes before practice and up to a half hour after practice. Timing, confidence and a sixth sense about the misground about six inches behind the point where the ball will be spotted. Right knee for left-footed kickers and vice versa. The holder's stance is similar for soccer-style and straight-ahead kickers.

Once positioned, the holder checks to make sure the kicker is ready. He then turns to face the line of scrimmage, reaching out to the center as he calls the snap.

The stopwatch begins ticking. Half a second...the ball leaves the center in a tight, low spiral and smacks into the holder's hands. Half a second...the

The holder pulls the ball down to the tee, spinning the laces on the ball forward to intersect the plane of the crossbar.

sion evolve with each practice day.

Every placekick demands that three singular assignments be coordinated into one uninterrupted blur. The snap: which must be accomplished within .5 to .6 seconds. The hold: which takes no more than .5 to .6 seconds. And the kick: which goes off in .2 seconds or less.

At ground zero, the holder is coordinating the attack.

In many instances he will call the play in the pre-kick huddle away from the kicker, who is positioning the tee. He will also count to make sure 11 players are on the field—no more, no less. If there is a problem, he will call time out.

Usually the holder is positioned with the knee nearest the kicker on the holder pulls the ball down to the tee, spinning the laces forward to intersect the plane of the crossbar as the kicker moves in. Fifth of a second ... the ball is upright, the holder's index finger on the point, as the kicker's foot moves cleanly across ground zero as the ball takes flight.

Chip shot field goals and points after touchdowns are often considered "automatics" by football fans. But if you stop to analyze the complicated jobs involved, it's a wonder any kick gets off before a defensive behemoth defuses the play.

If all goes smoothly, the holder rarely winds up on the injured list. When's the last time you saw a penalty called for roughing the holder? The kicker winds up his motion in front of the holder, so any defensive charge will be met initially by the kicker. This is wholly justifiable. If the kicker's name is going in the record books, he might as well be the first one hit.

But coaches who are short on quarterbacking talent will worry about some Liliputian kicker getting bounced onto the knee of a backup quarterback-holder. Not only is the kicker seeing stars, but the coach has also lost a player at a skill position.

Coaches have tried everything to keep the holder from getting hurt. Both knees down. Both knees up. Forward knee down. Squatting holds.

Yet the odds remain great that the holder who plays at another position is more likely to be injured between first down and third down than he is on fourth down.

Great plays made by holders are often unearthed days after a game is won or lost when coaches review game films. There on the movie screen the brain trust can pick apart each muscle twinge in slow motion and stop action replay.

Once in a great while, a holder stands tall before a crowded football stadium and carries the home team to victory.

It was on just that kind of night in the 1980 collegiate football season when John Falgout, a little-used sophomore flanker and backup holder, was thrust into the breach at Tiger Stadium in Baton Rouge. Falgout, who had been involved in only one other play that season, proved he could make the big play for Louisiana State in a blood feud with Colorado.

Colorado had nuked a 20-0 LSU lead late in the fourth quarter to tie the game 20-all. LSU intercepted a pass in the waning minutes and bulldozed into field goal range. But the regular kick holder, a backup quarterback named Robbie Mahfouz, had been injured.

With the game hanging in the balance, Falgout trotted out for the most significant play of his young career in Tigertown. He checked the kicker, called the snap, spotted the ball and watched the pigskin split the uprights for a 23-20 LSU victory.

Holders, you see, can be heroes, too. They just have to be given a chance.

Now look up from the pages of this program and locate the guy on the field who is holding for placekicks. Admire him. Encourage him.

Wait for the next successful field goal or point after touchdown and yell for him.

Make him feel it.

Yell something like, "Way to handle the ball, sure hands!" Or, "You're the best holder ever!"

Go on. Yell it.

omething about college football seems to demand a special kind of pageantry-perhaps it's the pride in their team that students, families and alums feel when they attend a game.

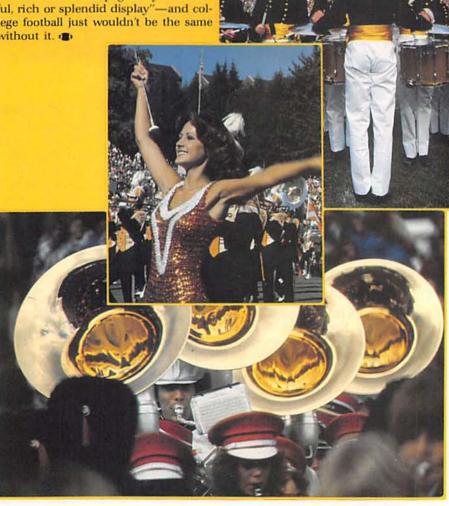

During the pre-game and halftime shows and during the game itself colorful sights and sounds fill the air: The drum major struts; baton twirlers toss their batons; flag bearers present their colors; marching bands parade; and cheerleaders and school mascots rouse the crowds. All of these things really add to the excitement of college games, and the fans love it. They come not only to see two teams match brains and brawn on the field, but also to enjoy the spectacle surrounding the game.

Pageantry is part of the just plain good time that is had at college games. It helps to create an atmosphere in which fans are eager to participate in cheers, card stunts, hat tossing, singing the alma mater, or whatever expresses their enthusiasm for the team they support. From the voungest child to the oldest adult, everyone gets involved.

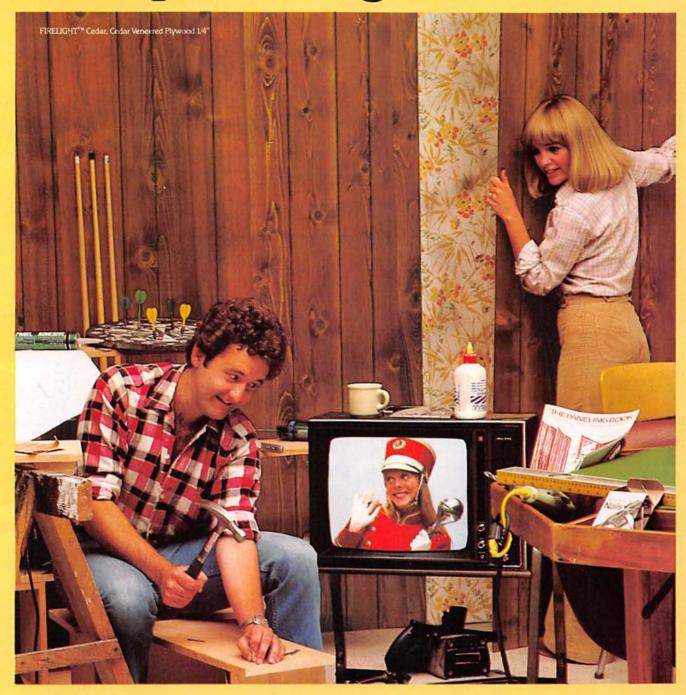

The definition of pageantry is "colorful, rich or splendid display"-and college football just wouldn't be the same

The Shotgun—

The Formation of the Future?

by David Bush, San Francisco CHRONICLE

once strictly a tool of the t was once strictly a tool of the desperate, used only in the most dire of circumstances. But recently the shotgun formation has been increasing in popularity in college football, every year gaining new devotees as coaches look for more ways to improve their offenses.

A great many teams now rely on it as an integral part of their arsenal. "We are into a shotgun trend," said a Pacific-10 coach. "I don't know how far it's going to go, but I'm seeing a lot more of it."

Some coaches use it only on obvious passing downs, and fewer than five times during a game, but others will line up in it as much as half the time.

Not every coach is enamored of the offense, and even those who use it concede it has some weaknesses. "So what?" says an eastern coach. "No formation is perfect. I can pick apart any one you name. But if we didn't experiment and try different things, we'd all still be using the Notre Dame box."

In the shotgun, the quarterback stands five yards behind the line of scrimmage and takes a direct long snap, rather than positioning himself immediately behind the center. Four, and sometimes all five eligible pass receivers line up on or near the line of scrimmage. At the snap they scatter in their various patterns like a load of buckshot, thus giving the formation its name.

As with all football formations, variations of the shotgun have been around since the earliest days of the game. But it was not until the 1960s that the shotgun received the legitimacy of a name and a role. Strangely, it was in the staid world of professional football, where innovation is usually regarded with contempt, that the shotgun surfaced.

The San Francisco 49ers, with quarter-back Y.A. Tittle and star running back Hugh McElhenny both injured, were 16-point underdogs to the Baltimore Colts in November, 1960. But the 49ers came out in a new formation and upset the Colts, 30-22. Writers covering the game, as confused as was the Baltimore defense, groped for a way to describe the new 49er offense. They referred to it as a "spread," a "double wing" and a "short punt." It was left to 49ers' coach Red Hickey, who had designed the thing, to give it a name. "We call it our shotgun offense," he said after the game.

It quickly fell into disfavor and has since been used by only the most inventive of pro teams. College coaches continued to dabble in it. At Northern Illinois in the mid-1960s, quarterback George Bork set several passing records using the shotgun, but coaches usually went to it only if their quarterback's mobility was impaired.

"If your quarterback has a bad ankle or something it is a good way to protect him," said a Midwest coach. "He doesn't have to drop back, which can be a big strain on a tender foot. And even if your quarterback is healthy, it can help. Once we played a game in the South, and it was 100 degrees. Our quarterback had to drop back 50 times. If I had known it was going to be that hot, I would have used the shotgun. All that moving took its toll, and by the end of the game, he was exhausted."

But coaches and passers are discovering that the shotgun has some advantages for healthy quarterbacks. "I like it because you can see the patterns developing all the way," said an East Coast quarterback who has used the shotgun since his high school days. "And you can read the coverages and see the rush coming much more easily. You aren't looking away, and then having to pick everything up all over again. It's all right in front of you from start to finish."

Another plus is that the quarterback gains a lot of confidence using the shot-gun. He doesn't have to worry about any of the variables associated with the drop-back pass; taking the snap, footwork, setting up. All of that is eliminated, and he can just concentrate on throwing.

The shotgun limits the types of pass patterns a team can run, but makes some of them more effective. The quick pass is eliminated, because to make it work the quarterback must be only two or three steps behind the line of scrimmage. And routes that rely on splitsecond timing are extremely difficult to execute in the shotgun; they are instinctive and predicated on the pass drop.

The most common shotgun pass patterns rely on the receiver maneuvering to get open. The quarterback sees the defenders during the entire play, and can choose exactly the right moment to deliver the ball.

Screen passes, too, work extremely well in the shotgun. "The key to a successful screen is the quarterback dropping way back and throwing just as he is about to get hit," said a Rocky Mountain coach. "That's a lot easier in the shotgun. The quarterback is already back there, and the defensive linemen are storming up the field, playing pass all the way. It is an ideal screen situation."

Teams that want to use their quarterback as a runner, but don't want to get involved in the high-risk ball handling of an option offense are turning to the shotgun. A small, fast quarterback who has trouble seeing over the linemen, for example, can set up in the shotgun, run around and give the defense fits.

One very effective play with a mobile shotgun quarterback is the flush pattern, in which the quarterback deliberately gets himself flushed out of the pocket, and, once on the loose, can run or throw. In the dropback situation, the direction the quarterback is flushed is called in the huddle. He has to go that way regardless of the pressure. But in the shotgun, the quarterback has his druthers because he has time to watch the pass rush. Then when he starts moving, the linebackers are in trouble. If the linebackers don't come up, a good running quarterback might get 20 yards. If they do, there's a hole in the coverage. If the linebackers just freeze, the receiver has an easy time making a hole for himself.

In the shotgun, offensive linemen have responsibilities identical to a normal set. The blocking schemes are the same.

There is an obvious difference, however, for the center. He must snap the ball five yards rather than just hand it to the quarterback. Surprisingly, that isn't much of a problem.

Because it's only five yards, and not 15 like for a punt, the center can do it with his head up, looking forward. And snapping in the shotgun doesn't require the same accuracy that is needed for a field goal try, where the location of the snap has to be perfect. As long as the ball is close and not on the ground or up in the stands, the quarterback can catch it.

Despite its advantages, the shotgun is not without its detractors. "It's a 95 percent passing formation," said one coach who abandoned an experiment with it. "It tells the defense you are going to pass, and their linemen say, 'to heck with the run' and just blow in at you. They get into a sprinter's stance and come, which makes it tough on the offensive line."

Other coaches feel that doesn't matter. If it's third and 20, a pass is in order anyway, so what's the difference? The shotgun isn't giving away any secrets in those situations.

"I just like keeping the idea of a run," persisted the coach. "There is no play action possible in a shotgun. It isn't deceptive. The quarterback can't fake a handoff because all the backs are in front of him and the defense can see the ball. The threat of a run, however remote, holds the defense up just a little. Sometimes that is enough."

Other coaches have had some success running a delay draw play from the shotgun.

Against a dropback offense, the inside linebacker has to watch for the draw only until the quarterback drops behind the fullback. Once the fullback passes that point, there will be no more draw, and the linebacker can go into his pass coverage. But in the shotgun, the fullback is there all the time. The quarterback can count to three or five or whatever. The point is that he can hand the ball off at any time and it can drive the linebacker crazy.

Some coaches feel the shotgun takes away one of a quarterback's big advantages—the ability to change the play at the line of scrimmage. With the shotgun, the play that is called in the huddle is the one that is run.

Regardless of its drawbacks, the shotgun is being used more regularly by teams around the country. Even schools known strictly for their running offenses are trying it. Maybe the reason is that passing is such a radical departure for them, that they would rather do it in a radical formation. Or maybe it is because the shotgun is the offense of the 1980s.

KANSAS Bell is only 5-9 and 180 pounds, but according to Fambrough, "that young man has more endurance than any football player I've ever coached." Bell may need that endurance. Guard David Lawrence is the only returning starter in the Jayhawk offensive line.

However, says Iowa State's Duncan, Bell "makes yards where there are no yards." When Bell and the offense falters, Kansas has punter Bucky Scribner, who averaged 44.1 yards per punt, sixth best in the NCAA.

The youthful Jayhawks came within one game, the season-ending, 31-6 loss to Missouri, of earning a bowl bid. A year's experience for the blue-chip freshman class which included Bell and Seurer is reason for optimism in Lawrence.

Seniors Greg Smith, a noseguard, Chris Toburen and Kyle McNorton, both linebackers, and Tony McNeely, a cornerback, all have lettered three years. "I feel good about our defense," says Fambrough, never one to be pessimistic.

KANSAS STATE Coach Dickey, who is in his fourth year with the Wildcats, claims that when he arrived in Manhattan three seasons ago, he saw an Interstate 70 sign on which had been written "Kansas State 0." Last season, then Wildcats stopped opponents in the air, ranking No. 1 in the nation in pass defense, but couldn't stop them on the ground, allowing more than 260 rushing yards per game.

Kansas State ranked last in the Big Eight in three of four major offensive categories. Darrell Dickey and five other starters return from that offense, including guard Amos Donaldson, who made honorable mention on at least one All-America team.

Three of four starters return in the Wildcat secondary, but unless the rushing defense can stiffen, there will be no need to pass against the 'Cats. End Wade Wentling, limited by injury last season, will be a key figure in the Kansas State defense.

MISSOURI Coach Warren Powers must not only find a replacement for Bradley, he must also build an offense around three returning starters: tight end Andy Gibler, running back Terry Hill, and center Brad Edelman, consensus all-conference at his position last season. "We need to re-establish our running and passing attack around some new people," Powers explains, making his task sound simpler than it is.

Almost as many new people are needed on defense, but tackles Randy Jostes and Bennie Smith, noseguard Jerome Sally, linebacker Van Darkow, and strong safety Kevin Potter are veteran starters off a Tiger unit which ranked 17th in the nation in scoring defense a year ago.

A fourth bowl bid in four seasons will mean Powers and his staff found the secret to rebuilding . . . quickly.

NEBRASKA Craig isn't the only noteworthy junior playing on the Cornhusker offense. Dave Rimington joins Missouri's Edelman among the best centers in the country, and split end Todd Brown has game-breaking speed. With Rimington and senior Dan Hurley, the offensive line has a solid base. Both weigh in at about 270 pounds.

Senior end Jimmy Williams may be the best defensive player in the Big Eight, and he's one of the best in the country. Williams anchors a front which includes his brother, tackle Toby; Henry Waechter, the other tackle; and middle guard Curt Hineline.

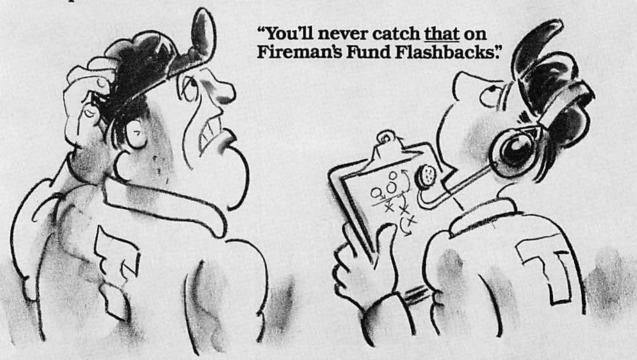

Nebraska's junior linebackers have two years of experience, and the Cornhusker secondary is missing only one regular from a year ago. "Since it wasn't hit as hard by graduation, I'd say that our strength will be the defense," says head coach Tom Osborne, who ranks fifth in winning percentage among active NCAA Division I-A coaches.

OKLAHOMA The Sooners' Switzer ranks No. 1 among the active Division I-A head coaches, carrying an .894 winning percentage into the 1981 season. Oklahoma has won or shared the Big Eight title each of the last seven seasons.

The Sooners ranked second in the nation in rushing behind only Nebraska and will try to pick up where they left

Beyond quartz, the world's most precise tuning system, lies a new ability to expand sound.

Imagine you're in a room with Technics SA-828 receiver. What you hear is beautiful stereo. Then you activate Technics variable Dimension Control. Incredibly, the sound begins to move. The stereo image widens to the point where the music begins to surround you. You're intrigued by its richness and depth. You're enveloped by a new experience in sound. That's the wonder of the patented technology in Technics Dimension Control.

Just as wondrous is quartz synthesis, the world's most precise tuning system. That's how the SA-828 quartz synthesizer eliminates FM drift as well as the hassle of tuning. You can even preset and instantly retrieve 7 FM and 7 AM stations, all perfectly in tune.

Another perfect example of Technics technology is our synchro-bias circuitry. What it does is constantly send minute amounts of power to the amplifier transistors. And since they can't switch on or off, switching distortion is eliminated.

And when it comes to power, the SA-828 has plenty: 100 watts per channel minimum RMS into 8 ohms from 20Hz to 20kHz with no more than 0.005% total harmonic distortion.

The SA-828 goes on to show its sophistication with a super-quiet phono equalizer, soft touch program selectors, fully electronic volume control, and a Dimension Control display that doubles as a power level meter.

Technics SA-828 is part of a full line of quartz synthesized receivers. Hear it for yourself. Beyond its quartz synthesizer lies a new dimension in sound.

Stress can rob you of vitamins

What is stress?

Severe injury or infection, physical overwork, too many martini lunches, fad dieting—any condition that places an unusual demand upon your body constitutes stress and may cause B and C vitamin depletion, if the diet is inadequate.

Vitamins the body can't store.

Your body absorbs two kinds of vitamins from the food you eat: fat-soluble and water-soluble. Substantial reserves of the fat-soluble vitamins are accumulated in body tissues. But this is not true of most of the water-soluble vitamins, B-complex and C. They should be replaced every day.

When your vitamin needs are increased by stress, your body may use up more B and C vitamins than your usual diet can provide. When that stress is prolonged, a vitamin deficiency can develop.

STRESSTABS* 600 High Potency Stress Formula Vitamins can help.

STRESSTABS® 600 has a single purpose: to help you avoid a B-complex and C vitamin deficiency. With 600 mg of vitamin C, and B-complex vitamins, high potency STRESSTABS® 600 can help restore your daily supply of these important vitamins.

STRESSTABS® 600 also contains the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance of vitamin E.

A stress formula to meet a woman's need for iron.

STRESSTABS® 600 with Iron combines the basic STRESSTABS formula with 150% of the Recommended Daily Allowance of iron, plus folic acid and more B6, to help satisfy the special nutritional needs of many young women.

STRESSTABS' 600 with Zinc.

Because zinc requirements have also been found to increase during various forms of stress, it has recently been concluded that there are times when your body may need more zinc.

continued

"A football player is a wonderful creature. You can criticize him, but you can't discourage him. You can defeat his team, but you can't make him quit. You can get him out of a game, but you can't get him out of football."

Yup, as Loftus observed, they come in all sizes, shapes and hues. And if one proves to be too small or slightly bent in the wrong place, you don't necessarily throw him away. You can just change the color of his jersey.

Sooner or later every coach will get some players who look like they are pretty good prospects. But they are just not ready to play. At the best, they are going to be the fifth tackle or maybe the sixth linebacker.

Maybe they're too small. Possibly they lack emotional maturity. In a lot of instances they have been hampered by injury. They are candidates for a redshirt.

The term might have been coined, and the symbol adopted, by a coach unable to bear the sight of blood. Possibly the coach was preparing his team to meet The Big Red of Nebraska, Ohio State or Stanford, because the type of players described above can spend an entire season on the "scout team," wearing the jersey and running the offense of the next opponent on the schedule.

"When you talk about the redshirt rule you are really referring to the 'five-year-rule' explains Western Athletic Conference Commissioner Joe Kearney. "If a player does not participate in any games for a year, his eligibility continues for five seasons, instead of four years from the time he enrolls."

He is, in the lexicon of collegiate football, a "redshirt."

At one time their numbers were legion. Schools might have had as many as 155 players on football grants-in aid. If 40 new players were brought in a year, the coach might decide that 10 of them would be ready to play as sophomores. The other 30 would be redshirted.

Today, schools may offer no more than 95 football scholarships.

"That puts a little different aspect on redshirting," admits one coach who has had tremendous success redshirting his quarterbacks. "You can't do it too often."

Normally, a decision on redshirting is made by the player, and his coach, just before the start of his sophomore season. He is told just about how much playing time, if any, he can anticipate at his present level of development.

The player may decide to take his chances on the bench, or on the special teams. Or he may elect to sit out that season, on the chance that his value to the squad will be enhanced with another year of practice-field experience and maturity.

Most coaches don't hide the fact that selfish motives sometimes influence their inclinations toward redshirting athletes.

"We had a player in our secondary who could have played last year," a Midwest coach admits. "But we redshirted him so we wouldn't lose all our talent at that position in the same season."

There is hardly a coach who does not embrace the redshirt philosophy, and occasionally uses it to strengthen his team. One area of disagreement which did arise, however, questioned whether coaches should be allowed to redshirt freshmen. psychologically."

OK, there is an obvious argument within the coaching fraternity on this issue.

But how do the coaches feel about the practice of redshirting athletes in, say, the seventh grade?

Well, coaches from the Pee Wee level on up have been mimicking successful college coaches in strategy, motivation, equipment. Why shouldn't they also decide that some athletes might extend their stay in junior or senior high for a year, for the eventual benefit of the football team?

The redshirt may spend an entire season on the scout team.

This practice was allowed in 1978, but was greeted with varying degrees of enthusiasm.

"We didn't redshirt any freshmen that year," a southern coach recalled. "I wanted my kids to play and we had about four junior varsity games scheduled. I think the transition from high school to college is tough enough. If a young player is motivated to study, he will study. And he is so much more motivated if he is playing, than he would be sitting out that first season."

"I disagree," responded a Southwest Conference coach. "We redshirted 10 to 12 freshmen that year and I think without exception they are going to be better players because of it. I thought the freshman rule was a good one and I was sorry to see it discontinued after one year. The psychological and physical maturity of youngsters differs. The ones who mature earlier play earlier. I have not found it to be detrimental to them academically or

"I know they had a segment on the practice of redshirting seventh graders on 'Sixty Minutes'," recalls one coach. "I haven't really found anything wrong with it. I see youngsters coming into college now at 16 or 17 years of age. That is very young."

Another coach echoes this view. "I see nothing objectionable about a family deciding a boy should be held back a year. I would be absolutely against anybody else making that decision for him. I had an extra year in high school and I think it definitely changed my life for the better."

"You know," he confided, "I wanted to hold all four of my sons back, but my wife wouldn't go for it."

Unlike the executive director of the NCAA or the commissioner of the Big Ten or Atlantic Coast Conference, mothers are still able to exercise a unilateral veto vote regarding the redshirt rule.

What separates the champions from everyone else is the ability to duplicate their achievements.

The College Football Hall of Fame

magine, if you will, a Hall of Fame devoid of musty little rooms where memories hang heavily along drably painted walls and trophies lose their glitter in dim-lit shadow boxes.

Visualize, instead, a football Hall of Fame which honors its great players, coaches and personalities in bright attitudes of achievement. Picture telescreens bringing men and matter to life, where the late Knute Rockne "talks" of legends and "Red" Grange gallops again. See yourself matching wits with history's most successful coaches or testing your knowledge of the game in a computer quiz.

These experiences are reality at the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame at Kings Island, the 1600-acre family entertainment center, situated along Interstate-71 north of Cincinnati. The facility promises more than a past-tense presentation of gridiron glory. To the contrary, you will discover football excitement in a modern mood, blending multimedia concepts in a unique, fun-filled learning process.

Aligned with the National Football Foundations' dedication to educate and inspire Americans through the principles of football, the building, dedicated on August 3, 1978, has been hailed as the Hall of Fame of the future.

Jaques Cattell Press, in its recently released The Big Book Of Halls Of Fame, foresees the visitor getting "to know the game of college football intimately within 2-3 hours" or attaining "in 10 minutes a first-name kind of friendship with a famous college football star of the past."

Indeed, this personalized approach is an integral part of the Hall. Exhibits bring the total college football experience to life via action-oriented attractions which invite your participation. Within a campus-like framework of Georgian-Colonial architecture, the building houses a wonderland of fact and fun certain to appeal to each member of the family—male and female, young and old.

For example, a touch of the telescreen keyboard conjures up the legends of Jim Thorpe, Tom Harmon, Bronko Nagurski, "Whizzer" White, Pop Warner or any of the 453 players and coaches enshrined in the Hall. The computer gives you ready access to information on the Hall of Famers, according to name, school, state or season.

You may want to meander through the "Time Tunnel," which traces the history of football from its earliest beginning as a Greek game called Harpaston, played in 478 B.C., to its modern version. Walk along the cobblestones of Merry Old England and learn how King Henry II outlawed the sport when his archers spent more time kicking a ball than drawing their bows. Leave the ancient days of football's development, passing through a Civil War tent and into the blossoming evolution of the game as a uniquely American sport.

Four theatres provide cinematic insight into great teams and individuals, classic contests, bowl highlights and ribtickling football follies. Wide-eyed youngsters can enjoy Hanna-Barbera's Fred Flintstone in an "explanation" of football rules. A 250-seat Grandstand Theatre records the game's Golden and Modern eras in film and slides.

And, yes you will witness Notre Dame's legendary Knute Rockne—in a specially-produced animated form—deliver his famous pep talks in the "Locker Room," sponsored by Chevrolet. The reincarnated Rockne urges you to "Win One For The Gipper" or "Fight, Fight, Fight," recalling some of the most inspirational moments in football. That's not all! Many other coaches are featured in Locker Room screenings.

The computerized "Strategy Room" is set to offer exciting games to test your skill and judgment in situations familiar to the nation's coaches. Tackle a computer quiz and "make the team," moving from Recruit to Coach, all based upon your knowledge of football and its history.

Or, for some real fun, step up to the tee and kick a "game-winning" field goal. Be careful, though! There are cheers if you make it, boos if you miss.

The new Hall of Fame offers college football's color, excitement and pageantry as an extension of the already popular family entertainment theme of Kings Island. Taft Broadcasting Company, owner of Kings Island, is managing the Hall of Fame under the direction of the National Football Foundation.

The traveling gourmet can enjoy the Island's International Restaurant; the golfer, a tour of the Jack Nicklaus Golf Center, site of the 1978 Ladies Professional Golf Association Championship.

Redshirt Kelly Phelps is expected to key the wishbone at quarterback, with a group of running backs headed by Rhymes, Wilson and Chet Winters, and including sophomore Jerome Ledbetter and Willis Mackey, a transfer from the University of Washington.

Oklahoma's defense is essentially unproven but potentially outstanding. Tackle Ricky Bryan and linebackers Thomas Benson and Jackie Shipp are sophomores. Cornerback Darrell Songy and free safety Steve Haworth are juniors.

OKLAHOMA STATE The Cowboys' reputation for being some of the toughest and most physical hombres in the Big Eight will be upheld by experienced linebackers Ricky Young and Mike Green, likely the best tandem in the conference.

Green logged a conference-leading 138 tackles last season. Young finished with 128 and was a first team All-Big Eight selection. According to head coach Jim Johnson: "Linebacking is about the only proven strength we have."

Sophomore Roderick Fisher has a year of experience at cornerback.

Known quantities in Oklahoma State's offense include Doerner, a walk-on who spent part of last season sidelined with a broken leg, and speedy flanker Ron Ingram.

ON HUSKER SATURDAYS

Turn to 59/WOW Radio for Nebrasko's most complete Cornhusker football coverage!

We start first at noon with the "Big Red Report" an hour-long preview of the day's Nebraska and college football action, from the WOW Sports Center.

At 1:00, Joe Patrick and Husker Head Coach Tom Osborne tell you all you need to know about the upcoming Big Red Contest. Then Patrick and former Husker quarterback Steve Runty call the action, from strategy in the huddle to excitement in the end zone.

After the game, we'll talk with Nebraska Coach John Melton plus play game highlights in our one-hour postgame show.

Join us for Husker football first this fall . . . Big Red Football on 59/WOW.

Big Eight Conference — Service Comes First

What is the Big Eight Conference?

The oldest major-college conference composed solely of state universities, the members of this voluntary association are Iowa State, Kansas State, Oklahoma State, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska were among the original five members of the group which organized in January of 1907 as the Missouri Valley Conference.

By 1925, membership was 10; however, at a meeting in Lincoln, Neb., on May 19, 1928, six of the seven state institutions — Oklahoma State was the exception — formally organized a separate conference — the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

This was the old "Big Six," although the longer, more formal name was official. Iowa State, Kansas State, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma became the "Big Seven" on December 1, 1947, with the addition of Colorado. Oklahoma State rejoined its old mates on June 1, 1957.

The name "Big Eight Conference" was officially adopted in May, 1964.

Purposes

Basic purposes for creation of the association were, "To organize, control and supervise intercollegiate athletics," "To establish standards and promote scholarship and high ideals in sportsmanship," and "To formulate principles and disseminate information regarding the proper place of athletics in schools and colleges."

All members must have institutional control of athletics.

For discussion of Conference matters, each institution is represented by a faculty member (a person, appointed by the chief executive officer, who has professional rank and who is not primarily associated with athletics or physical education) and a director of athletics.

Carl James Commissioner

Keith Broman Chairman

Dan Gibbens Secretary

The faculty representatives constitute the legislative body of the Conference. The directors comprise the operating body or administrative agency, functioning under the rules and regulations enacted by the faculty representatives.

All official business relative to the operation of athletics is conducted by the directors.

To help achieve the purposes of the Conference and to carry out related administrative activities, the Conference maintains a headquarters office in Kansas City. A full-time staff of nine is under the supervision of Commissioner Carl James.

The Commissioner is authorized, among other duties, to serve as treasurer of the Conference to administer receipts (mainly from television rights fees, bowl games, and meets and tournaments) and disbursements of Conference funds, to train and assign officials for football and basketball, to make rulings on or interpretations of Conference regulations, and to serve as the principal enforcement officer of the Conference.

In addition, the Big Eight:

 Determines champions in 11 sports for men and 10 for women, conducting championship events in all but football. In 1979, the Big Eight became the first major conference to include women's sports in its championship-events program.

- Maintains five standing committees to assist with governance.
- Publishes an annual "Records Book" with historical data. Pre-season sports outlooks are also published and distributed.
- Collects, compiles and distributes official statistics weekly during sports' seasons.
- Negotiates for television exposures on behalf of the membership.
- Provides education on rules governing college athletics including those covering eligibility, financial aid, practice and competition and recuiting.
- Regulates the eleven Conference sports, establishing guidelines for size of traveling squads, financial agreements, season limitations and schedules.
- Grants a "Post-Graduate Scholarship" annually, in the amount of $1,500 to provide continued education for a deserving Conference student-athlete.
- Selects an "Athlete-of-the-Year," the Conference's highest award based on both athletic achievement and personal citizenship.

Athletes Fare Well

In competition, the Conference boasts an impressive record of success. For example, Big Eight representatives finished among the NCAA top ten in nine of eleven sports during the 1980-81 season. Other Big Eight highlights:

- At least two teams have finished in wire services football "Top Ten" lists every year since 1970.
- Two basketball teams reached NCAA "Final Sixteen" in 1981.
- Big Eight teams have won the past five NCAA gymnastics championships.
- Big Eight teams have won 18 of the past 25 NCAA wrestling championships.
- Big Eight teams have been to the finals of the college baseball "World Series" nine times, more than those of any conference except the Pac-10.

DEFENSE

It's not uncommon ... you just bought a sofa and you see it advertised for less than what you paid ... and there's nothing you can do ... unless you bought it at Wanek's of Crete! Then you've got the "defense" — Wanek's No-Nonsense Price Protection Guarantee! (And chances are, if you bought it at Wanek's, you won't find it advertised for less! We wouldn't guarantee our prices if we didn't know just how low they really are!)

Quality Name-Brand Furniture, Carpeting, Appliances, Bedding, TVs and Stereos . . . all at High-Volume Discount Prices!

This Is Florida State

Florida State University—the home of more than 22,500 Seminoles—has a campus that starts at the top of one of Tallahassee's famed seven hills, and rolls gently downward and westward across 340-odd acres.

Founded in 1857 as the Seminary West of the Suwannee, its heritage is evidenced in the wide range of architectural struggles to preserve history and keep up with modern times and air conditioning. Yet it still ranks as one of the South's last few bastions of campus greenry—the kind that combines the blossoms of camellias, azaleas and dogwoods with moss-hung oaks that are, in some cases, as old as the University itself, if not older.

From the Gothic towers of Wescott at the eastern entrance to the campus, to the modern glass and steel structures of its Science Complex on the west, Florida State University has moved forward in time and growth more rapidly than many of its newer counterparts in the State University System. Its enrollment has quadrupled since it became coeducational in 1947, following nearly half a century as the Florida State College for Women.

Today, its 14 schools and colleges offer students the opportunity to pick and choose from more than 100 career options offered in arts and sciences, business communication, criminology, dance, education, home economics, law, library science, music, nursing, social sciences, social work, theater and visual arts programs.

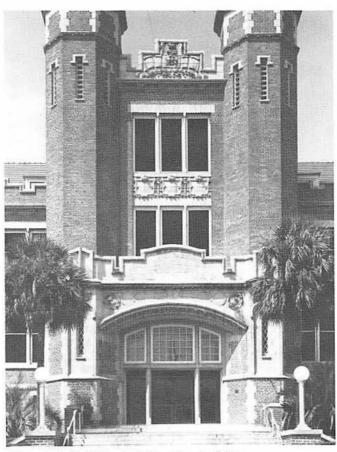

The University is a member of the Academic Common Market and has overseas study centers in Florence, London and the Panama Canal Zone. Summer programs of study are offered in law at Oxford, in hotel and restaurant administration in Switzerland, and in comparative studies of economic and social systems in Yugoslavia.

The location of Florida State in the capital city of Florida offers unusual opportunities for study and research in the social and policy sciences, and an optimum environment for internships and on-the-job learning experiences for students in many fields of study.

One such program at Florida State is the Policy Sciences Center. It combines teaching and research in politics, economics and other social sciences to provide information and analysis for state government leaders, including the Governor, the Legislature and agency staff members. Already achieving national prominence, the Center studies and evaluates such topics as taxation, economic development, population, land use, family planning and human resources. Surveys conducted by the Center help legislators and others assess trends and changes in public opinion.

The University operates major laboratory facilities for nuclear, marine and computer research. The Florida State nuclear physics laboratory is ranked one of the top four in the nation by the National Science Foundation. Because of this ranking, it has been recommended for higher funding.

Florida State is also the home of the Flying High Circus, the only collegiate circus in the United States. The Circus has delighted audiences the world over with breathtaking, highly-skilled performances that rival professional circuses. The student performers have earned a national reputation as a high-caliber student troupe. Their traveling show is primarily an aerial and stage presentation with approximately 90 students performing during a two-hour show.

Cornhusker Wheel Club 1981

Automobile dealers in Nebraska are contributing a large measure of help to the University of Nebraska athletic program through the loan of courtesy cars. Like other programs which are a part of the Cornhusker booster group activities, this project enables the Nebraska Athletic Department to make greater use of its funds. These sports-minded dealers around the state have earned a debt of gratitude from the University of Nebraska Athletic Department. They are an important part of the "team" that includes players, coaches, administration, faculty, staff, students, alumni, Husker Educational Award group, Touchdown Club, Extra Point Club, Beef Club and the courtesy car program.

New chancellor stressing University's role as friend of and friend to Nebraskans

by Andrea Cranford Assistant Director Office of University Information

Even before he officially became UNL chancellor on June 1, Dr. Martin Massengale was out meeting with western Nebraskans.

"The people of the state are our stockholders, and they have a right to know what's going on here," Massengale explained. "I need to have their input and to hear their thoughts and comments."

The 47-year-old former associate dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Arizona and, since 1976, UNL vice chancellor for agriculture and natural resources, is the permanent successor to chancellor Roy Young, who left UNL last year to direct the Boyce Thompson Institute at Cornell University.

A native of Kentucky, Massengale received his B.S. degree from Western Kentucky University and his M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin. He is a nationally renowned agronomist who has had extensive teaching, administrative and research experience and has served as an agricultural consultant both in the U.S. and foreign countries, including the U.S.S.R. and Indonesia.

Massengale believes that "Nebraskans are proud of their University.

"One has to be highly impressed with the feelings of friends and alumni toward the University" as indicated by the "unusually successful" fund drive completed by the University Foundation last fall, he said. Although their original goal was $25 million, the Foundation actually raised $52 million over a three-year period.

Citing the University's roles as a data bank, a problem-solving resource with specialists in many fields, and a training ground for future leaders, Massengale said, "The University is a major investment for the state, and it has done a good job of meeting the needs and being attuned to the problems of Nebraskans.

"A very high percentage of our graduates are now in strong leadership positions. To me that speaks well. It's a good return on our investment in education here at the University," he said.

The chancellor isn't implying that the University is without problems, however.

"I think we have a good University, but I feel there's room for improvement. Anytime we don't believe there's room for improvement, we're shortchanging ourselves and future generations of Nebraskans," he explained.

The chancellor sees the faculty, staff and students as major strengths of the institution. "I think we're very fortunate to have an excellent faculty and staff and an outstanding student body with a lot of loyalty and dedication," he said.

"The challenges are great in this position and the responsibilities awesome," Massengale concluded, "but I approach the chancellorship with much optimism and a very positive attitude about the state and the University.

"The University can be looked upon with a great deal of pride as a major factor in the 'Good Life of Nebraska.' "

Gymnasts Set Their Sights For A Fourth NCAA Title

After a summer traveling the globe competing against some of the finest gymnasts in the world, the members of the Nebraska Men's Gymnastics team have gathered in Lincoln once again to begin the defense of their NCAA gymnastics crown.

But before Jim Hartung, Phil Cahoy and Scott Johnson can start preparing for a fourth NCAA team title, there is one more international competition on the calendar, the World Championships, set for the end of October, in Moscow. Both Hartung and Cahoy have been to the world games befoe and Hartung was a member of the 1979 US team that won a bronze medal in Ft. Worth, Texas. Hartung's highest finish in the all around came that same year when he finished tenth. Cahoy's only appearance came in 1978 and he finished 37th in the all around.

Both Hartung and Cahoy are heavy favorites to make this year's US team while teammate Scott Johnson can't be counted out of the picture. According to NU head coach Francis Allen, Johnson was the hottest gymnast in the country last year. "He moved all the way up to where he is now the fifth rated all arounder in the country". Allen said.

After returning from Moscow, the Huskers will encounter one of their toughest schedules ever. Included in the 81-82 campaign are head-to-head duals with UCLA, Oklahoma, and Iowa State who finished 2-3-4 behind Nebraska in the 1981 NCAA's, and a host of invitationals at which the Huskers will meet all but one of the ten teams to qualify for last year's national meet.

In addition to a tough schedule for the coming year, the Huskers have added several new faces that should make them ever stronger. Derrick Blanks is a former two-time National Junior College still rings champion who averaged 9.7 in his final year in JC. Mike Bowers, an Omaha Northwest grad, according to Allen has "the finest skills of any freshman that we have ever had at Nebraska". Bowers is presently touring with the US Junior Elite squad.

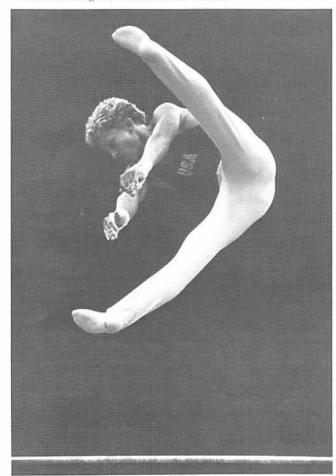

The highlight of any season of Nebraska Gymnastics is still the NCAA Championships, which for the third consectutive year will be held at the Bob Devaney Sports Center. Last year over 11,000 fans saw the final night of competition and over 28,000 attended the four sessions, both totals shattering the exsisting attendence records. This year's meet is scheduled for April 1-3 and promises to be one of the best ever.

THE QUEST FOR THE RINGS.

AMERICA'S NEWEST VIDEO GAME CHALLENGE.

The Quest For The Rings is totally unlike any other video game you've ever experienced.

It combines computer technology, your TV set, and an advanced board game that transports you to a startlingly realistic Alternate World.

Your team struggles to find and control the ten precious Rings Of Power that lie hidden in danger-filled dungeons, chilling crystal caverns, infamous infernos and perilous passages.

A wizard. A warrior.
A phantom. Yes, even a firebreathing dragon are all part of the battle. A battle in which skill and cunning and strong survival instinct often lead to winning.

The Quest For The Rings is the first in a new Master Strategy Series™ from Odyssey². Only Odyssey² could bring it to you, because alone among video games, Odyssey² includes at no extra cost a full 49-character alphabet and number keyboard. This keyboard lets you program Odyssey² for the likes of the Alternate World.

The Quest For The Rings is one of 40 exciting Odyssey<sup>2</sup> games available now. See them soon.

The excitement of a game. The mind of a computer.
